The long evening dress is an important actress in the current fashion, and when well designed adds its almost dry beauty in good measure. Nettie Rosenstein uses gold and champagne silk brocade for an exquisitely cut long-sleeved, demure with its tiny puffed sleeves. The drawing-room at the lay-waisted back is marked by two pink silk lines.

Happiness Doesn't Come in Pills

Are we becoming so soft that we can't face life's normal problems without "knocking out" drugs? Today they're laid out for everything from financial worries to family squabbles.

January Reader's Digest tells you why "pills" can eventually weaken our capacity to adjust to new situations and circumstances... why a certain amount of anxiety is normal to life. Get your January Reader's Digest today! 33 articles of leading interest in condensed form to save your time.

29 BRIDGE STREET EAST

CAREFUL, ROSE

By GRACE THORNLIFE

French flannel in bright fashions is a nice fabric and but for a moment to be worn on blustery winter evenings. It is made with deep, inverted box pleats at each side and is trimmed with fancy ribbon braid with gold touches. The braid is used to trim sleeves, pockets and the collar with its little black velvet string bow. This is the type of robe that makes a good gift item for a college girl or a young career woman.

Students Display Interesting Art Exhibit at McCarthy Theatre

It is most encouraging to note that in spite of the threat of latent lunacy and an age of rash materialism, the love of the beautiful still runs strong in the hearts of our young people. In one form or another, now and then finds its way to the eyes of this little generation. It has given five talents to another two and to another one.

The newly displayed in the art exhibit now on view by the pupils of Miss Mary Meade, in the lounge of the McCarthy Theatre.

Among the exhibits are those in oil, depicting nature and winter scenes, still life and flowers, and also some charcoal work, all of which demonstrate appreciation of color and line, in varying degrees of realism, one of which was most pleasing, that of "Autumn Rhapsody." This portrayed a scene most familiar to many in the days when merry, faithful friend, the horse, was at its zenith, gently sloping hillsides, lush with golden grain being reaped and blunder, drawn by three lively horses, two bays and a roan, one of the boys is surprisingly anything a bit as the artist, and in each horse one distinct personality. The painter of this interesting scene has an eye to detail, and a lover of horses, so well are they depicted as they pass along the partly trodden field. In the distance is seen a blue sky with scudding clouds, all betokening the autumn and harvest time.

Another picture displays a man in quiet contemplation, casually whittling something from a piece of wood, as he sits beside a slowly flowing stream upon the bank of one of the three stark trees. "A Corner to the Flame," shows the old, heavy timber, now showing signs of age in their grain, standing across a horizontal space, hung with old time lanterns, and standing nearby is the sharp, pointed, long-handled axe, a helpful in many tasks, a most realistic picture, with a nostalgic scene.

Coming into the lighter touch, is the "Sunflowers," that old favorite of many hyacinth gardens, where the smiling black-winged canaries find a mid-day meal of nutritious seed heads, and which brings to mind the old refrain, "And the sunflower turns to her head when she sets, the same face that she turned when he rose."

A pretty scene is that showing painted, twin trees beside a stream, with rocks, nicely grouped in the foreground, and in the distance beyond the open expanse of water, the autumn-tinted woods, with their yellows, golds and russet colorings.

STILL LIFE

The still life work was interesting in the various colors, and in the foreground, and in the distance beyond the open expanse of water, the autumn-tinted woods, with their yellows, golds and russet colorings.

and brown. All were well drawn, with highlights.

One flower painting consisted of a blue vase with white, red, and yellow flowers, against a deep rose curtain, which was carefully well done.

The group of white ducks on a placid pool, was lovely in its treatment, and realism, another by the painter of the "Autumn Rhapsody" scene, shows the love of "all things great or small."

A fishing scene in the early part of morning, with its fishing vessel at its moorings, and beams of fish visible in the foreground, shows detail, and observation.

Among other paintings was one of a group of colorful maples as surrounded by white bark and dark green, blue water and distant autumn tinted woods. Fine color and precision, and careful attention to detail.

Other pictures of a similar subject were more colorful, showing a group of maples in rich yellows and striking reds and crimsons.

The "Zimara" were well done, with their intricate shadings, and multitude of petals.

One of the paintings of "the days that are no more" was of a quiet country road, bordered by the old-fashioned rail fences, behind which nestled home-like houses, against a blue hillside, and along the road, slowly winding its way into the distance, a horse and buggy, a most peaceful scene.

The one winter scene noted was re-creating with its little cottage harked by yellowing poplars and tall pines, the roadways "lashed with snow" through which a sleigh, drawn by a team of horses, one white, the other black, and driven by a hand-dup driver in a red greatcoat, slowly showed care in drawing, and exacting coloring.

The "Red Geranium" might well grace a window sill in any home, so true to life, with its velvety green leaves, and clusters of red disk-like flowers, in the leaves of work.

The subject was most to the teacher of this class in the fine and interesting work they are doing. It is hoped more will follow this trend in expressing the beauties of nature.

Traffic Control a Must Air Safety Their Aim

Flying is no longer the hazardous adventure of a quarter century ago but is swift and sure as science can make it. In the great spaces of the open skies, traffic control is just as important as it is in the city's crowded streets.

Canada has been one of the countries foremost in developing safety standards that are now practiced all over the world to ensure happy landings for millions of passengers.

To take care of the ever-increasing volume of flights, Canada has started schools in Winnipeg and Toronto to train young men as air traffic controllers. The six months course provides three months of theory followed by another three of practical experience in the tower.

Either visual or instrument flight regulations can be used in flying but most air transport lines use the latter. This basket type of radar antenna is made of metal and acts as an electric eye to indicate the location of all craft within the airport area.

In addition to a regular flying licence, all aircraft captains are required to hold an instrument rating obtained after the most rigid of check flights. Last minute contact with the control tower is made through a two-way radio in preparation for the take-off.

Besides airport control towers, there are 7 major control centres in Canada at Gander, Moncton, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver. Before an instrument flight can take off from any airport, clearance must be obtained from an area control centre as well.

The approach controller's radius is from 30 to 40 miles from the airport. He charts arrivals, departures, and flight overhead transmitting instructions to aircraft by pulling a selector key for the proper radio frequency or gives general orders by throwing all keys.

Radar screens aid in plotting the exact course of a plane. The top screen shows the craft from the time it enters the airport area until it lands on the runway as shown on the screen below.

NEW YORK (AP)—Time magazine Tuesday night named the Hungarian fighter as its 1956 man of the year. "This man was seen to have shaken history's greatest deception to its foundations," Time said.

Buildings lie in ruins after an $800,000 fire swept through Valleyfield, Ont., leaving 100 homeless. One man was missing and presumed dead beneath the ice-cold rubble of a grocery store.

NEW YORK. The Canadian basic price, applicable in Quebec, Ontario and west to Winnipeg, is traditionally $4 lower, with Quebec and Ontario papers receiving further concessions. Prices in other parts of Canada range generally higher than in the central areas.

The last general increase of $4 a ton went into effect in early 1956.

That increase, announced at varying dates by sawmill producers in the fall of 1955, ranged from $3 to $5 a ton, but it is understood that the $4 amount was generally adopted.

Series of Severe Earth Shocks In California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Tocher, University of California seismologist, reports that a series of severe earth shocks, apparently about 2,500 miles northwest of Berkeley, were registered Tuesday afternoon and evening on the university seismograph. Tocher said the shocks ran up as high as 7 1/2 on the Richter magnitude scale and the directional indication was that they would have centred somewhere in the Aleutian Island chain extending west from southern Alaska. The 7 1/2 Richter magnitude was about that of the famous earthquake which resulted in the burning out of San Francisco in 1906. Tocher added that he believed that the shocks had been felt in the area.

Because of the location of the shocks, Tocher added that he believed that the shocks had been felt in the area.

Daughter of Belleville Couple Practises Medicine the Hard Way in Newfoundland Outport

By JAN HARRIS

Outport Doctor

Life in northwestern Newfoundland is a familiar subject to one Belleville couple.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hall, 182 William Street, receive letters regularly from their 20-year-old daughter, Dr. Elizabeth Hall, who practices medicine in Port Saunders, Newfoundland.

Dr. Hall was born in Peterborough. She attended medical school at the University of Toronto and interned at Toronto Western Hospital. Following this she spent a year with Dr. Agnes Gammison in Mississauga, Ontario.

Having a great love of the outdoors, Betty, as her family knows her, wished to work somewhere in northern Canada where her services would be needed. When she heard about a shortage of doctors in Newfoundland she applied for a position in one of the outport hospitals in that province. She received a letter telling her women doctors were not accepted. The story changed a couple of weeks later when another letter arrived. This time her application was accepted and she was offered the position of M.O.H. and doctor in charge of the cottage hospital at Port Saunders.

On a map, her new home would be located three-fourths of the way up the western coast of Newfoundland. Unlike most of the province, which is engaged in the fishing industry, Port Saunders is chiefly a lumbering community.

LACK FRESH FOOD

As in any northern district there is a great lack of fresh fruits, vegetables and meat. Most of the food is brought in by boat before the freeze-up, which occurs in the middle of December. After the freeze-up the only contact the people have with the outside world is by mail plane. The boats are brought in ice-mailed. There are no cars and only a few trucks found in the district.

There are two churches, Catholic and Anglican. There are no organizations in Port Saunders. When Betty arrived she found that the outport had no churches in the area. These groups sponsor card parties to raise money for hospital comforts. One of the items they plan to purchase is a radio for the patients' rooms.

Two schools, Catholic and Protestant, are located in Port Saunders. Students can attend classes through grade 11. Betty is concerned with the lack of children's libraries in the village. Mrs. Hall has been collecting children's books to send to her daughter. Betty now has quite a few books available for the sick children in the hospital.

Before arriving Port Saunders had been without a doctor for 12 years. Patients had been cared for by a graduate nurse. When Betty took up her duties the Department of Health in St. John's gave her a few hundred dollars to get the hospital started. This included a few hundred dollars for the purchase of the hospital.

The hospital serves a community of 2,000 people. This takes in Port Saunders and surrounding villages. The young doctor's territory includes a 30-mile section along the coast.

Early in the only doctor at this two-story hospital. Assisting her are a graduate nurse, maid, cook and a janitor. The building contains eight beds—six adult beds and two children's beds. The doctor's office and other women live in the hospital.

DOES OWN DISPENSARY
Because there is no drug store nearby, Betty has to do her own dispensing. The hospital is equipped with 110-watt electricity from a generator. There is an electric refrigerator and washing machine. Besides the patients' rooms the hospital contains an operating room, dispensary, staff dining room and living room, and rooms for the doctor and his family. There are also large store rooms and an outpatient department.

In line with the health plan of Newfoundland every family pays a moderate sum yearly and for outpatients receive a free consultation and hospital care, paying only for drugs in the outpatient department. However, all children to the age of 16 receive everything free of charge, including drugs.

DR. ELIZABETH HALL

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hall of Belleville, who is practicing medicine in Port Saunders in northwestern Newfoundland.

According to the letters she writes to her parents, Betty is kept busy in her isolated home. In the outport district and situated in the small villages she sometimes has as many as 20 patients a day. Her tasks often include extracting teeth. Thanksgiving day she performed a record number of extractions. At a visiting dentist came by boat twice a year. He showed Betty how to anesthetize for general extractions. This was a new experience for the woman doctor. In a three-week period she never removed a tooth. "I'm getting pretty good at it even if I do say so myself," she wrote in one of her letters.

"Transportation for a doctor in northern Newfoundland differs greatly from that of an Ontario physician. In summer, calls are made by boat, usually in a dory. In letters Betty related one unforgettable experience. One rough day when it was impossible to travel by boat she had to walk with a dog five miles to River d'Or. After checking her patients—where the dog had the long walk back. When she discovered a schooner Port Saunders she received permission to travel in it. Coming to Port Saunders at night with the lights of the village twinkling off and on she described as "a sight to remember."

THIRSE KNOWLEDGEABLE
In winter the calls are made by horse and sleigh or by snowmobile. The latter means of transportation reduced the dog sleds. When travelling in this manner, Betty is seen in a sleeping bag for warmth. Patients requiring major surgery are flown out by airplane. Betty's copier or taken by boat to Bonaville, 50 miles away. There is a surgeon in a 20-bed hospital. The only communication for the hospital during the winter months is by airplane, mail or telegraph.

Entertainment for the people of Port Saunders is centred around card parties, a type of square dancing and occasional movies. Betty is introducing educational and health films to the community.

Mrs. Hall describes her daughter as being "interested in people and all facets of their life." In her letters Betty describes the people and their appreciation of any kindness shown them. They often visit her into their houses for coffee when they see her passing after completing her calls. They sometimes bring her small gifts, such as berries.

"Betty's Christmas was expected to be casual because she was to be busy caring for patients. Mrs. Hall wished to make her daughter more festive, sent Betty foodstuffs which are difficult to obtain where she is located. She also mailed her Christmas, another hard-to-obtain luxury."

Mr. and Mrs. Hall have resided in Belleville for three years. Betty's brother, Ted, 29, is a high school instructor in Toronto.

Frederic Watt, Magistrate for 44 Years, Retires

GUELPH (CP) — Magistrate Frederic Watt, who presided over courts in Guelph and Wellington County for 44 years, retired Tuesday.

As he stepped down from the bench Monday, Magistrate Watson said that no system yet devised or to be devised, can reform a person who does not want to reform.

"Even Almighty God cannot reform a man against his will," he said.

He advocated corporal punishment and suggested it in a letter to the legislature's select committee on reform institutions. He suggested six strokes of the strap as maximum punishment for juveniles.

Magistrate Watt was feted Monday at city hall. He was made a honorary member of the Guelph Police Association.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, January 11 (Aries)
March 21 to April 19 (Aries) start is only part of the operation of understanding. It's the deadness at which you keep things going, the right place and right attitude, plus occasional inventiveness that's needed to make the whole a success.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)
Do not be uncomprehending at having to do a thing over if it should be so done, or at having to change plans to facilitate results. The best of us make mistakes; keep them in mind.

May 23 to June 21 (Gemini)
You delay what you must do until later if because of more crowded your time, with enough "excuses" to justify it.

June 23 to July 23 (Cancer)
Manage today well. Don't have "little" things unduly, and don't let yourself give up. Be careful of other people's literature or anything else that can spoil an otherwise good day.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)
Remember to say, and say it at the right time, also knowing when not to speak can put this day in the successful or "off" column.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)
It's important to give your year off to an uncomprehending start, and today will be a vital one in your plans. Courtesy, expedience, plus prompt, paying attention to good suggestions.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)
There may be tedious things to handle, reviewing, re-counting, changing, alterations. Keep in mind a practical, sane, or balanced matter and things more crowded your time, with enough "excuses" to justify it.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)
Develop your weather sturdily. Develop your inborn initiative, enthusiasm and aggressiveness and you can not only reach the heights but aid others along your successful way. No matter your age, you are generally mentally and physically able to take up an old job or new project and give it the good workmanship another person does at the beginning of a career. Do not let moodiness, jealousy or superstitious fears prevent you from given capabilities. Be sensible about and nervous about. RAWDON

W.I. Receives
News Flash
From London

RAWDON — An up-to-date news flash was received last week from The Associated Country Women of the World. B. Heazlewood, of London, Eng., reports that as yet no plans have been made for the 16th international conference of ACWW. An emergency meeting was held in London, England, and it was with great regret that it was decided to postpone the conference to April, 1937.

The postponement was inevitable as the shipping lines were disrupted and many members found transport impossible. The Croydon group was deeply disappointed and hoped that another date would be chosen. The middle of December, Mrs. W. Berry, ACWW president, spent a few days in Croydon to talk over the situation with the officers before she flew on to her home in Australia.

At a meeting held on December 8th in London, England, the executive decided to announce the winners of the ACWW essay competition, "How Is The Organization to Which I Belong Contributing to World Peace?"

PRIZES AWARDED

The international panel of judges report that in their opinion the prize was an impressive testimony to the value of ACWW. The first prize of £25 sterling goes to Mrs. Jess Macdonald, New South Wales, Australia. The second prize of £15 sterling was awarded to Mrs. W. W. W. of London, England. The third prize of £10 sterling was awarded to Mrs. W. W. W. of London, England.

The ladies from Wales and New Zealand tied for third place, while three ladies from Norway, Australia and Michigan, U.S.A., were consolation prizes.

An interesting report was given of a demonstration of the use of visual aids. Students from many parts of the world came to England for an eight week course at the "Tropical Community Center," under the auspices of the Y.W.A. These students were strangers to England and to each other at the beginning of the course but when they graduated in eight weeks they are confident and happy.

These centres open their doors to women of the world here they are taught how to teach other women the art of living folk in their own countries, with practical common sense and friendly understanding.

Robinson Still is The Dancer But This Time Fullmer Calls The Tune

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

THE LONG TRAC AGAIN

The Mags go around "the huts" today and tomorrow, playing the Pembroke Kings in Pembroke tonight and looking on over the games on an afternoon game on Sunday. Big Grubbin and the gang hope to break that Pembroke "Huts Wins" tag in tonight's game.

The McFarlans have won nine of their games at home, five and tied one; Carver won seven, lost three and tied two; Whitty has won nine, lost three and tied one; Kingston has won seven, lost six and tied one, while Pembroke, all-in-all, has won eight, lost seven and tied one.

The Mags lost a struggle in their last visit to the lair of the Greenbushes long ago in a last-minute goal by the Kings' James Woods after Gilbert had tied it up with a blaring slapshot from the bluelines. However, they turned around the next day and won a neat tussle from the Chevies in Cornwall by a 4-1 count in a game that was gathered late in the field in the first period.

There's a new tonight and another sort of character tomorrow in this match sport. Reports from Kingston have it that the Whittys' lineup left Jack Denney and Eddie Redmond in Peterborough after that disastrous three-in-one loss last night. They were joined with Alfie Treven back from a bout with a virus, filling the Redmond shoes. "Mekap the maverick" was also there. He came through with his first start in his second game of the season between the Blaimen pipes.

However, we are of the opinion that Denney and Redmond were in this match sport to do the job of the checker as evidenced in the scoring points of the powerful Dunlop from home. They had four goals and two assists against the Kings' six and six assists and three goals and three assists against Pembroke. News from Whitty hinted the Mags were on their way to a victory. It was reported the Blaimen were seeking another goal, meanwhile using "blows in the nets."

Speaking of huts the McFarlans had something or other of that nature over at the Capital CKL's having beaten them twice at home and twice away in the four games in which the chubs have dashed seven times. In view of the losses but recent rivalry that has existed and still exists between these teams, this move is more or less ambivalent for dread-the-dreaded Mags fans.

For some years now the peaky cusses from Rodenville have held the whip-hander over Belleville chubs both at home and abroad, but this year's slippers have been on the other side. Yesterday night the chubs met for their ninth clash of the current season in Memorial Arena and the result was an interesting having the first meeting over CKL's broken at this stage of the game.

New faces will be wearing the gear of the Rodenvilles with Dick Kelson and "Buck" McLaughlin. Kelson, especially, was headed for Belleville but a last-minute change in plans saw him "Buck" Rodenville. He was looking good, especially on Belleville, so we watch out for a real one Tuesday night.

The Kingston chub's last win was consistent aside yet, and on their last few games they were or been defeated by convincing scores. They knocked off the Chevies under a 10-1 count then went down to the Mags in a 4-1 count in their last outing. They are the only club in the circuit to hold two wins over the starry Ontario Champions. They have scored 102 goals and have lost 144 checked up against them.

Martin Predicts Fullmer Will Whip Robinson If and When They Meet Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Ray Robinson never will be a better fighter than he was against Gene Fullmer, says Martin.

"That doesn't mean he never will be a better fighter," Robinson said. "He's got to be a better fighter than he was against Gene Fullmer, but I don't think he will be."

The outcome that Robinson would like to see is a knockout. "I don't think he will be a better fighter than he was against Gene Fullmer, but I don't think he will be."

Robinson said he was a "good" fighter, but he was not a "great" fighter. "I don't think he will be a better fighter than he was against Gene Fullmer, but I don't think he will be."

Four Injured In City Car Accident

Four young people received cuts and bruises, a city hydrant was damaged, and the city sanding crew had to be called out to clear the street after a car went out of control on Water street, near the intersection of the street, on Tuesday morning.

The car was a 1965 Ford Mustang, driven by a 19-year-old male, who was driving at high speed when he lost control of the vehicle.

The car struck a hydrant, causing it to tip over and spill water onto the street. The car then continued down the street, causing damage to the sidewalk and the street.

The driver of the car was not injured, but the four passengers were. Two of the passengers were taken to the hospital for treatment of their injuries.

The city sanding crew was called out to clear the street of debris and to sand the area around the hydrant. The street was closed for several hours.

The city is investigating the accident and may take action against the driver if it is found that he was negligent.

ECHOES FROM THE PAST

Style changes—even in greetings. If proof of that statement were needed, it was provided the other day by Mrs. F. Burling of the "Carriers Boys" who, among other old papers, a sheet entitled "New Year's Greetings of the Carrier Boys to the friends and patrons of the Intelligence."

The year was 1880.

The greeting ended with the traditional "A Happy New Year," but between the opening and closing lines, there were, even then, several long and one short one.

The short verse had a theme which would not be out of place today and will not be so easily forgotten, unless everybody gets his paper printed at home, by facsimile:

"Good friends, Adieu
We bid each New Year's Joy,
Please don't forget your friend
The Carrier Boy."

We hope that verse won't elicit the desired response, back in 1883.

The longer verses, though, were evidently not the work of any carrier boy but bore the imprint of an editorial mind much more than that of a carrier boy, but not a publisher today, would on an editor's shoulders such a chore lay.

Consider, for instance:

"Where our City Fathers strive
At improvements to arrive—
By laying sidewalks, and
And discussing plans to meet
The desires of your people—
Let there should be in the cold
Outside left when elections
Have taken their course."

In the ranks of those who They'd leave us never, never
The potholes that ruin the road,
They've done well although there may Be some things that we
And others better to have done."

The poem continues by citing some of city's needs—
"For pure water, and Too much gas has left of shining."
Municipal problems that have
That claimed the post-editor's attention. His concluding verse contained the following lines:

"May Paddy and John O'Brien's kiss
Make every home a better of bliss,
May Lovers ever be true,
And Sachem's longer rule
Like butterflies from south to sweet
Let us but ever be true,
By Cupid's chains be held so fast
That they may find their rest at last."

A WISE DECISION

At Sauli Ste. Marie, Ont., recently a charge of impaired driving against a motorist, was dismissed, because the accused man's statement to the police.

This case has caused some editorial comment, critical of the court.

Such criticism appears to us to entirely miss the important point.

Whether or not the accused was drunk when he made a statement to the police would have been immaterial if the evidence against him, namely no reasonable objection to the accused's refusal to accept a statement made by a drunk man.

Would any person advocate that the court accept testimony from a witness who was drunk when placed on the witness stand?

If testimony from a drunk man is inadmissible as evidence, what reasonable ground can be offered for accepting a statement given by a man when he was drunk? The possibility of error would appear to be enhanced rather than diminished.

It would appear that it may safely be presumed the accused person made an admission of guilt while drunk and that later, when sober, he repented that admission.

It may well be, of course, that he told the truth while drunk and that he lied when sober. But what possible assurance can the court have had that this was so, rather than that when sober the man told the truth and when drunk he lied?

It is not from acquitting the man on a technicality, the Sauli Ste. Marie court would appear to have been taking the only position possible for any court with an appreciation of the extent of the evidence.

It is innocent until he is proven guilty.

If a man is to be convicted by the testimony of a drunk witness, whether or not another, whether such testimony is oral or a signed statement, what protection has an innocent man the possibility of being the victim of a grave injustice?

PAYING POOL IMPORTS

Perhaps it is comforting to know that our national credit is such that we can buy and buy without any real concern as to payment. It can give a feeling of relief to know that our country is so rich that it can import its debts to meet the needs of its people.

It is not to be forgotten that the money that is imported must be matched with export goods of comparable value.

YOUTH POUND NOT QUOTED BY MAGISTRATE

Magistrate T.V. Wells this morning closed the final chapter of a case which has been before him since shortly after Halloween last year. The youth charged with causing a disturbance by shouting was not quoted by the magistrate in giving his decision, the magistrate said he believed the lad was none but a petty thief. The case was heard on the night of October 31 at the armouries or else he would not have been arrested. However, Magistrate Wells was not satisfied with the Crown's evidence. He said there was a reasonable doubt that although the boy was on the scene he did not participate in the noise making.

The case was defended by Ronald Case, while County Coroner John Pringle presented Gordon Prever, who rents a room at the Armouries, as the guilty of stealing a $24 jacket and a hat from the youth. The fine of $10 was given to the youth on condition that he pay costs of $11 within two weeks.

$1,000 DAMAGE TO NEW CAR

His car was damaged to the extent of $1,000. The car was a 1937 model and was being driven by Harry Seymour, who was driving to work. The car was damaged to the extent of $1,000. The car was a 1937 model and was being driven by Harry Seymour, who was driving to work.

OWNERS MUST KEEP DOGS TIED

Just because lawns and flower beds are down and snow covered is no reason that dogs should be let to roam at large in the city.

At least that is the edict of city councilman Charles Thorne, who said that if it were necessary in allowing their dogs to run at large they will be liable for damages.

Under the provisions of a city ordinance, dogs are not to be run free in the city and kept on a leash.

PICTON—Believed to be the first strike, with pickets in Picton's history, is the one being organized by the Picton Meat Cutters' Association. The association, which is a branch of the United Brotherhood of Carriers and Drivers, is demanding a 10 per cent increase in wages and a 5 per cent increase in the cost of living.

The association's president, Mr. J. H. McCallum, said that the association had been in negotiations with the town of Picton for several weeks, but that no agreement had been reached. He said that the association was now prepared to go on strike.

The town of Picton is a small town of about 1,000 people. It is located on the north shore of Lake Ontario, about 100 miles from Toronto. The town is known for its beautiful scenery and its historic architecture.

Technicians, Connecting Links Between Skilled Artisans or Craftsmen, in Short Supply

NEW YORK (AP)—Booming technology at home and increasing demand for technical skills abroad have created a critical U.S. shortage of technicians, says a report by the National Academy of Sciences.

The report, which was prepared by a committee of the National Academy of Sciences, says that the shortage of technicians is a serious problem for the United States. It says that the shortage is caused by a number of factors, including a decline in the number of people entering the field and a lack of training opportunities.

The report also says that the shortage of technicians is a problem for other countries as well. It says that many countries are having difficulty finding enough technicians to meet their needs.

THE second reason is tied to the first. The first, according to the report, is that the number of people entering the field of electronics is declining. The second reason is that the number of people leaving the field is increasing.

The report also says that the shortage of technicians is a problem for the United States because it is a critical link between skilled artisans or craftsmen and the modern world. It says that without enough technicians, the United States will be unable to keep up with the demands of the modern world.

THE big thing about technicians, says Seymour Weis, chief of the U.S. Department of Labor's manpower division, is that they are becoming important in a supporting role, but in their own right.

Weis also says that the shortage of technicians is a problem for the United States because it is a critical link between skilled artisans or craftsmen and the modern world. It says that without enough technicians, the United States will be unable to keep up with the demands of the modern world.

GOOD FAT Competition for each year's handful of new American technicians is terrific, and starting early.

For the armed services, it is a particularly competitive field. For example, the U.S. Army is looking for about 10,000 technicians each year. The U.S. Navy is looking for about 5,000 technicians each year. The U.S. Air Force is looking for about 3,000 technicians each year.

NEW FIELD What has made the technician so important?

By ROSSON

The technician is a man who is skilled in the use of tools and equipment. He is a man who is able to take a piece of equipment and make it work. He is a man who is able to take a piece of equipment and make it better.

Indirect Talks On Suez Dispute Will Be Started

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain and France were reported today to have agreed to a Soviet plan to direct talks with Egypt on a Suez Canal settlement with UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld acting as intermediary.

The arrangement has not yet been decided upon, but it is expected that the talks will be started in the near future.

Under the plan now being worked out, officials said, the British and French will meet with the Egyptians, who would be invited to move back and forth between the two groups.

The talks will be held in a neutral location, and will be conducted in a confidential manner.

Several lines of business were discussed and various gifts were thanked for their special duties during the year. The institute members were also reminded to attend "January Day" in March.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRBAX

IF LOVE WOUNDS YOU, IT'S CERTAIN YOU'RE BOTH OTHERS

Dear Beatrice Fairbax: Maybe you can tell me what the matter with modern girls? Don't they ever like a fellow just for himself?

What I mean is, that if a fellow isn't handsome like a movie star, when he asks them out on a date, and most of all, if he doesn't have a car, they're not interested. Does every other girl but me have money and a couple of cars and look like he had just been made up in a Hollywood studio? And is that what the girls really want and aren't there any girls who just don't happen to know about these types of fellows?

Well, I don't about lost lots of girls, and instead of calling them out and asking for a date, I give my evenings going alone to the movies, and I give my evenings working on my hobby—housework. I believe that if you can't believe it of anything that would make it a little more difficult instead of a little easier, you'll believe it of a "modern" girl? For if there is one thing there is in this world it is that if one leads a boring life, one is practically certain to bore others. Maybe you like to bore the girls to death? Moreover, no one has to blame but himself if life is boring because, in all history, there have probably been so many opportunitites as there are now, right at everybody's hand, to make friends with girls in share interesting activities, and take time to get to know them in the work of the world.

When you've met a girl who, you think, are interested in you, and you're not sure if she is a man, I can't imagine. Of course I can't imagine, but I can't imagine that you're not sure if she is a man, I can't imagine. Of course I can't imagine, but I can't imagine that you're not sure if she is a man, I can't imagine.

What I am practically certain is wrong in your situation is that you haven't been looking in the right places for the right kind of girls. Or perhaps you haven't had enough initiative even to go out and look.

So go out and look for congenial friends means that you'll study the town in which you live to see what it has to offer in the way of clubs and other organizations whose activity programs appeal to you. Then you'll pick out two or three that sound like fun, find out what the membership requires, and join at least one of them. Once you're a member, you'll have something in the way of working for the group, too; you won't just sit around twiddling your thumbs, waiting for other people to plan things and carry them out for you.

Again, photography is your hobby, and photography everywhere has a tendency to organize themselves into a club. Just because it serves into a club, there's such a thing as your own? Well, you shouldn't try to be very chummy with your own club. You should try to bring into being something in the way of a club, and gratitude of all the other cameramen in the club, and take care of those of those dull.

And one more thing. Instead of waiting to be asked to go to sports events, why not take the initiative and go to sports events, why not take the initiative and go to sports events, why not take the initiative and go to sports events.

So, in all these suggestions, there are two points. The first is that there's nothing that makes friends for a person so fast as to share common interest. And the second is that, in every group you're bound to find not only boys, but girls as well—the kind of girls you'd like to know and who'd enjoy knowing you to share their common interest with.

On verge Of Tears Drives To Palace To See Queen

Successor Not Announced As Resignation Accepted

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Eden resigned tonight.

The 59-year-old Eden had completed 21 crisis-ridden months in the high office.

Eden called on the Queen at Buckingham Palace just after 6 p.m. following a 70-minute emergency meeting with the cabinet and other government ministers at Downing Street.

He drove to the palace alone. He appeared choked up and on the verge of tears.

The "Right Honorable Sir Anthony Eden, Prime Minister of Great Britain and Northern Ireland," said the Queen this evening and tendered his resignation as Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury which Her Majesty was pleased to accept.

There was no immediate indication as to who would succeed Eden. Normally the sovereign follows the advice of the resigning prime minister.

Eden's two closest lieutenants are R. A. Butler, long privy councillor, and Harold Macmillan.

Council Learns Housing Projects Being Planned

PICTON—Inaugural meeting of the Picton Housing Committee, held last night, was presided over by Mayor H. J. McKeand. The committee was organized to plan two months early to the town. Still not fully recovered, the Mayor remained for only part of the meeting. He expressed his confidence in the committee given him. Predicting a bright year ahead for the town, he stated he was attempting to locate another large industry here and a housing project was contemplated by his construction firm.

Supporting the mayor's prediction of the town's growth were representatives of a land development firm from Toronto, who announced plans for a housing development. This will be in three phases, first ten acres with 25 homes, and later development of 50 and 150 acre divisions. All will be known as the Bayview Park subdivision.

The Bell Telephone Company announced that it will commence building a business block on Elizabeth Street in August. This will herald the advent of a new business in Picton.

NO-MAIL DELIVERY

The town learned that it is not sufficiently large for mail delivery to homes. A total of 2500 potential places of call are required, and the Postal Service Division stated that the town did not qualify. Council decided to continue to press for service.

A letter to the Police Commission from Chief of Police Edgar Pitt was read. It said that two additional constables are required for proper policing. Council decided to meet with the commission to discuss the matter but expressed alarm in regards to extra cost.

Members of standing committees were named. On finance are: Enn Ward, A. Jarvis, Carmen Scott, Mrs. K. Clapp, Jarvis, Scott, property, streets, Clapp, B. Johnson, Miss M. Pearson, Mrs. Jarvis, N. McKinnon, Pearson.

G. McKeand was appointed to the library board for a term of three years.

Court of Revision members were: Enn Ward, B. Johnson, Robert Hill, M. Pearson, Neilson McKinnon.

For an unusual wall decoration learn a long vine to grow in exotic curves. Plant vine in permanent container, or in clay pot, to be placed in a more decorative one. Blend very heavy wire to size and shape desired, push securely into soil, and attach vine. Wire may be covered and padded with Spanish moss for a full, thick effect. If moss is kept moist it will promote vine growth.

Air Vice Marshal Wait Will Talk To Ex-Servicemen

Air Vice Marshal F. G. Wait, retired, CBR, CD, will address a gathering of ex-members of the Commonwealth Air Force Headquarters at the officers' mess at the Belleville Armouries Friday night.

Wait, who served in the air force from 1914 to 1936, is asked to be in attendance.

A/V/M WAIT, CBR, CD

A/V/M Wait retired from active service in the RCAF a few years ago as Air Member for Personnel at Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa. He had had that appointment since August 1931 prior to when he was deputy Air member.

The air vice marshal joined the RCAF in 1924 fresh from Royal Military College at Kingston and graduated from the flying training school at Camp Borden, Ontario as a pilot. Two years later he enrolled in the faculty of applied science at McGill University and graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering.

His next stop was to re-engage in the RCAF.

All the survivors of hostilities in 1922 A/V/M Wait was in Ottawa as Director of Staff Duties and in May 1931 was appointed commanding officer of the Hamilton and Gunners School at Mountain View. After nine months as C. O. of the school he was transferred to No. 3 Training Command which, since the end of the war, has been disbanded. In 1932 A/V/M Wait went to London, England, as Director of Personnel for the RCAF.

In the spring of 1934 the air vice marshal took over command of No. 4 Base in No. 4 (RCAF) Bomber Group and three months later became Staff Officer in charge of administration at group headquarters.

Reappointed to Canada in November 1934 A/V/M Wait served at Training Command Headquarters, Trenton, and in March the following year was appointed Air Officer Commanding No. 1 Group with headquarters in St. John's, Newfoundland. The following summer he went to Hamilton as Commandant as Chief Staff Officer and in April 1941 took over command of Eastern Air Command when it was redesignated No. 11 Group.

A/V/M Wait returned to Air Force Headquarters in late 1943 as Deputy Air Member for personnel and two years later became Air Member for personnel.

He was made a Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in June 1945 for outstanding service rendered during the war. For distinguished service in the European theatre A/V/M Wait was mentioned in despatches. He also has the Canadian Forces Decoration which was given to him for 13 years continuous service and good conduct.

Air Vice Marshal Wait is National President of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association.

OLD STUFF
BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—Vandalism among teenagers is no worse than it was in 1873, says A. R. Cohen. He has a copy of a 1870 ward policy posted that year by the school board offering $50 for information about the vandals who "perpetrated the outrages in the school house."

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

BY CANTON FAIRFAX

IF YOU CAN'T CONTROL YOURSELF, STOP GOING WITH BOYS

Dear Beloved: I'm 17 years old and go steady with a boy lit, his lives in a different province than mine and I have heard that he's going with a girl in the town where he lives. Last fall he was here while and during that time went out with a girl I thought was my best friend, so of course I was spoiled when he left. A few weeks later he came back and apologized. Since he left at that time I've written to him, but he hasn't answered any of my letters.

Think I consider myself persuaded me to go.

Now there is another boy who wants to go with me. I've told him about this other boy, and he says he'll wait and see how everything comes out between us. You think I should try and forget the first boy and go with the second one, or what? — R.H.B.

Dear R.H.B.: I think that whether or not you should go with any boy at all depends on how you intend to be here in the future. If your idea of going with a boy includes your allowing him to persuade you to do what you know is wrong, then you should stay away from boys entirely until you've learned self-control.

I hope, also, that you now realize that yielding to a boy's persuasion doesn't by any means insure his permanent interest in you. On the contrary, it happens more often than not that the girl who does give in finds eventually that after awhile, the boy tires of her and goes off to look for new conquests.

It should be quite early to you by this time that to say "go steady" is making a promise that is very long word. You've seen that boys go with your best girl friend, heard that he was going with a girl in the town where he

The French Have A Way With Eggs

By Mary Moore

A doctor friend of ours, 6'4" tall, is no boy that he thinks he has no time to eat. To keep on the run without more than a pause he drinks his meals—sometimes as many as 4 eggs in a four-hour eating, with a mashed ripe banana and a scoop of ice cream for better results.

He ought to know what he is doing for he is a McGill graduate. Maybe we could be a bit more moderate and lazier about this egg business and halt the food-madness. I've never seen on all the same time, for eggs are not high in price.

I do not do the pseudo-sounding people and please don't do it every morning for breakfast because I do. Do eat for the breakfast each morning though he keeps a body going at full steam ahead until about 3 minutes before noon, then your stomach begins to cry out for more sustenance.

Eggs for breakfast you can prepare with your eyes shut, but what I have for you are glorified and glorified little numbers called for eggs—when you are covered. No meat on hand and an unexpected meal to prepare. With these ideas meat will remain intact.

EGGS IN VAIN

One box frozen broccoli, 4 hard-boiled eggs, 1 box corn deviled ham, 1 teaspoon each Worcestershire sauce, grated onion, salt and dry mustard, 1 tablespoon milk or cream, 1/2 tablespoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, shake of pepper, 1 cup milk, 1 cup grated process cheese. Undercook the broccoli (fresh broccoli) may be used. Arrange it in the bottom of a 10 x 8 x 2" baking dish. Cut the hard-boiled eggs in halves crosswise, cut a 1/2 inch slice from round end and help them stand, scoop out pulp and mix with egg and salt, mustard and cream, mash and mix and restuff whites. Mix your milk and butter, then the second amount of salt and pepper, the milk, cream, mustard, stir in cheese. Stand eggs between and on broccoli. Pour

Susan Massey, Five Years Old Views Opening

OTTAWA (CP)—Susan Massey, five-year-old granddaughter of Governor-General Massey, made her first guest appearance at Parliament's colorful opening.

Her sisters, Jane, 8, and Joyce, 7, attended the opening last year with their mother, Mrs. Lionel Massey, wife of the governor-general's secretary.

This year, the three little girls, all dressed in white Swiss crinoline gowns with red sashes, sat as wives of parliamentarians, diplomats and other dignitaries took their places in the ornate Senate chamber.

Dark tones of grey, brown and black afternoon dresses and suits, for girls, white gloves and white, close-fitting tulle hats were popular apparel for the ladies.

Women's Institute

MOIRA W.L.

The January meeting of the Moira Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Thompson with Mrs. William Collins presiding.

Miss Bessie Holbert, convener of Historical Research, prepared the following program reading:

"Don't Forget Old Friends," by Mrs. Ken Thompson. "Phonies," by Linda Wall. Mrs. Don McDougall sang a solo; Mrs. M. J. Vandewater gave a talk on Dr. Clarence Selisbury, and Miss Brant of the Children's Aid, gave a talk on the work of the organization in Hastings County.

A short sing-song closed the meeting and refreshments were served.

Mr. John Dietschbauer, attending Parliament's opening for the first time as wife of the Progressive Conservative leader, wore a brown velvet dress and a beige straw model hat trimmed with beige and brown chiffon.

Arab League Backs Yemen In Aden Dispute

CAIRO (AP)—The political committee of the Arab League has pledged support to Yemen in its latest fight with British forces in Aden.

The little Arab kingdom on the Arabian peninsula has accused Britain of using force to put over a plan to federate the states of the neighboring western Aden territories, and of launching attacks on Yemen.

Yemen claims sovereignty over 30 shekhdoms in the peninsula.

The British in Aden Yemen authorities have been assembling tribesmen for attacks on the British Emirate, one of the small British-protected states in western Aden.

British jets have been attacked rebel Arab tribesmen and Yemen troops in western Aden.

The nine-country Arab political committee, meeting here, voted to inform Arab delegates at the United Nations of the Yemen dispute so that the Arab bloc could adopt a unified position in cooperation with other African-Asian powers.

High-Ranking Communists Challenge Buck's Leadership

TORONTO (CP)—A group of high-ranking Canadian Communists has challenged the leadership of Tim Buck, head of the Labor Progressive party.

Led by J. B. Salberg of Toronto, they have published a letter in the party's monthly journal, National Affairs, which discloses they tried to unseat the 64-year-old leader at a national executive committee meeting three months ago.

A party member close to Mr. Buck's challenge says the battle line is clearly drawn: "If Mr. Buck and his followers don't renounce the Soviet party line, the disidents will try to overthrow them at the party's annual convention here April 13."

The letter in National Affairs is accompanied by a 10,000-word "draft policy resolution" approved by the party's national committee at the end of December for presentation to the national convention.

ASK WIDER APPEAL
The policy statement, which urges a search for more support among members of labor unions and the CCF, says the party has been wrong in "looking upon the Communist party of the Soviet Union as practically the sole authority on questions of Marxist theory and practice," but it denounces signs of sympathy in the party toward "people's capitalism."

Mr. Salberg and his followers say the criticism of subversion in Moscow does not go far enough. They say they feel history pointing to the July 31 repudiation of the party stand on the "adequacy" of Nikita Khrushchev's explanation of Stalin's crimes is similar about, save over whether Russia should interfere in Poland.

The letter in National Affairs is signed by Mr. Salberg, a former member of the Ontario legislature; Ontario party leader, Stewart Smith and Harry Binder, it tells how these three, together with national committee members Norman Penner and Steve Zedek, voted for the resignation of Mr. Buck at an executive meeting Oct. 22.

CRACK COLLECTIVE LINE
They asked that Mr. Buck be replaced by a party secretariat—similar to the Soviet Union's form of "collective leadership"—until the national convention. The move was defeated by Mr. Buck and his followers.

Mr. Salberg in the letter says more than 200 have quit the party in Quebec since the resignations of national committee member Gus Caron and five other Quebec leaders Oct. 15.

A source close to the disidents says the party's national membership now is "considerably less" than the 10,000 reported two years ago.

OUR 38th BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Starts Tomorrow Morning at 9 Sharp — 3 Days Only!

DOVER'S are new to Belleville but we have been doing business with the Ontario public for 38 years and we are proud of the fact that the consistency of our policies over that time has gained the solid confidence of the buying public. DOVER'S traditional twice a year 3-day selling events always open with lineups at the doors in the other cities and towns where DOVER stores are located. Such confidence in Dover advertising and Dover values makes us proud and determined to continue these basic policies.

1. WE DO NOT CARRY MERCHANDISE FROM ONE SEASON TO ANOTHER.
2. WE HOLD ONLY 2 STORE-WIDE SELLING EVENTS A YEAR, EACH FOR 3 DAYS, IN JANUARY AND JULY.
3. WE ALWAYS HAVE AND GIVE EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISE.

Although our new store has been open a very short time and all merchandise in it is fresh and new, our entire stock is specially priced for this event (Stetson Hats and Dak slacks excepted). Nothing is held back and the original price is on every article.

Remember — YOU CAN ALWAYS COUNT ON A DOVER VALUE!

Have tea and cake with us all day tomorrow — It's our Birthday Treat.

"Clothing prices will increase as much as 15% in 1957," say newspaper reports. But we insist on clearing our stocks.

You can purchase your entire clothing needs at Birthday prices...and take 6 months to pay the DOVERWAY.

Eden's Departure May Hasten Healing of Anglo-U.S. Breach

WASHINGTON (CP)—Sir Anthony Eden's departure from the British prime ministry may hasten the healing of the breach in Anglo-American relations, though no immediate or dramatic improvement is expected to result.

There was no secret about Washington that there was no love lost between Eden and State Secretary John Foster Dulles, who was named the first to leave Eden for the estrangement resulting from the British decision to intervene in the Middle East last fall without consulting the United States government.

With Eden out of the prime ministry, it was considered not unlikely in some circles that the new administration's attitude towards British policy in the Middle East would be more conciliatory.

President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles extended their best wishes to Sir Anthony Eden as he departed. They were apparently they are relieved by his departure.

Eden's departure was described as "an old and good friend" in the United States. It was noted that he had been a friend of the Chinese.

Through the years I have developed for him a great respect and admiration. A reporter noted Eisenhower did not express "regret" at Eden's resignation.

That's the statement, replied President Eisenhower, said secretary James C. Hager.

Dulles commended briefly. "I have known Prime Minister Eden for a long time indeed and have had the friendliest relations with him."

"I regret that his health was such that he had to resign, and I hope that he will have many more years of health and happiness."

Dulles himself reserved comment pending official word.

The Dulles-Eden feud goes back several years to the Indo China conflict when Dulles was in London and returned to Washington when he was replaced by Sir Anthony to join the U.S. and France in military intervention against the Communists.

Macmillan Supported Eden's Intervention in Canal Zone

LONDON (AP)—Harold Macmillan was prime minister today when he succeeded Sir Anthony Eden as the Queen's first minister and as leader of the Conservative party with the results of Eden's venture into Asia.

Macmillan supported Eden's military expedition, at least to a point, and did not condemn the Conservatives' complete support. But in naming him her first minister, the Queen showed the Butler has his standing in the party than Richard A. Butler, whose previous political opposition had figured as Eden's successor. Butler favored a softer line against Egypt than Eden and many of his colleagues.

The Queen before announcing her choice called in Sir Winston Churchill and the Marquess of Salisbury, two of the leading Conservative leaders.

After receiving his new appointment from the Queen, Macmillan was asked by reporters if he was a Conservative. He replied: "I am."

Life Sentences Proposed for Dope Peddlers

OTTAWA (CP) — The government wants maximum life imprisonment for dope peddlers and has announced its proposal Wednesday when a bill providing the stiff penalties for members of the traffic in Canada, was introduced in the Senate.

The bill is based on the recommendations of a special Senate committee which heard evidence in 1953 that there are about 3,000 drug addicts in Canada.

The committee found no great poisoning drug problem, but it received evidence that peddlers and traffickers made as much as $1,000 an ounce on their illegal product.

The bill repeals the present Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, which provides penalties of six months to seven years for illegal possession and up to 14 years or no fixed minimum for possession for trafficking.

SUBSTITUTES ACT
It would substitute the new Narcotic Control Act, making it a special offence to import narcotics illegally. The penalty would be 10 to 20 years for the first offence and 20 years to life imprisonment for subsequent offences.

Other penalties:
1. For illegal possession—life, 18 months on summary conviction before a magistrate or six months to seven years for a conviction on indictment before a higher court.

2. Possession of drugs for trafficking—up to 14 years, without a minimum, for a first offence; 10 to 20 years for a second offence; 20 years to life for a third or subsequent offence.

Unlicensed cultivation of opium poppies on cultivated plants would carry a penalty of up to 18 months on summary conviction and up to seven years on conviction by indictment.

HIRE KEE'S ADVISER

TORONTO (CP) — President Flanagan's adviser on housing matters will be engaged by the Toronto and Metropolitan planning boards as a consultant in proposed joint housing studies to be started shortly. The appointment of Dr. Leo Gruber of New York was approved Tuesday by the joint planning board. His fee is $50 a day.

Proposals Represent Radical Departure From Govt. Policy

OTTAWA (CP) — The Gordon commission report, to be unveiled today, will contain at least two proposals representing radical departure from government policy. One deals with economic state, definitely will contain a scheme for curbing private waste surpluses by imposing long-range marketing quotas on farmers.

It also is expected to propose that the government raise its present stiff curbs on hydro power exports and encourage increased shipments to the United States to help balance a heavy deficit in U.S. trade.

The report, to be made public by Prime Minister St. Laurent at about 3 p.m. EST, has already been discussed by the cabinet. The wheat-power suggestions are reported to be causing the greatest controversy.

HAVE LATER REPORT

Prepared by a five-man royal commission headed by Walter L. Gordon of Toronto, the preliminary document to be followed by a bulkier report later this year contains a lot of proposals which it is understood the cabinet is prepared to accept.

Those unacceptably will include: Proposals that the government create a long-range immigration policy to encourage primary numbers of immigrants; that the maritime economy be stimulated by building custom freight rate subsidies and give assistance to relocate sub-marginal farmers; that some encouragement be given to municipalities which over the next 25 years may spend some $100,000,000 in housing, sewer, water and other local facilities, and that steps be taken to reduce

MAJOR PROBLEMS

These, it is understood, will be the commission's main focus. 1. Population to increase in 10 years to about 20,000,000 from the present 15,000,000.

2. National production to rise to $70,000,000,000 in 1960 from the $25,700,000,000 in 1954. This rise is based on current prices.

3. Average wages to increase by some 15 per cent, again based on current prices.

4. Farm production to drop to about six per cent of total output from the present 13 per cent.

5. The total labor force to increase to about 9,000,000 from the present 5,500,000.

MAJOR ISSUES
The wheat and power proposals will be major issues in the report, but it is doubtful that they will get cabinet acceptance.

The view among some officials is that the wheat suggestion would increase government participation in industry, a move opposed to "free enterprise." It would also possibly involve increased outlay of Canadian wheat board funds.

There is strong opposition in some federal circles to any reversal of the present policy restricting power export.

As reported, the wheat scheme would have the wheat board improve long-range marketing quotas on producers. Anything they produced over annual quotas, for example, would not be accepted by the board. But farmers would get advance for extra — and wheat within the quotas.

Proposal Will Be Opposed By Soviet Union

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)

The United States pressed for a vote today on its proposal to set up a fact-finding team in an effort to find out what is happening inside Hungary.

Observers predicted overwhelming approval in the General Assembly. The resolution is sponsored by 24 countries. Only the Soviet bloc, which has fought the proposal every step of the way, was expected to vote no. A number of Asian-Arab powers may abstain.

The resolution touched off a flood of Communist criticism and for the first time brought Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld under Soviet attack on a major issue.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister, V. V. Komarov, assailed Hammarskjöld, charging him with siding with the West on the Hungarian issue. The Russians also made plain that no watchdog committee would have a chance of getting into Hungary itself.

DEFERRED SECRETARY
The Soviet attack on Hammarskjöld brought a sharp rejoinder from Gyula Horvath's delegate, R. S. E. Guevarra, said the secretary-general's actions should not have been questioned since the United Nations has the duty to dig out information to support its activities.

Hammarskjöld apparently led the move to form an investigating team when he told the assembly earlier this week that such a body should be organized to find out what is going on inside Hungary.

Rabbit hair and wool fabric in medium blue or soft mauve does up smartly into a useful and pretty daytime dress for the Junior young lady. It has a circular skirt, fitted bias-cut bodice with long, slim sleeves and a high, round neckline. Makes a nice contrast to this ubiquitous shade that seems to have moved in successfully in younger fashions. Nice for wear under brown-tone fur coats.

Woman Swaps Traps, Rifles For Town Life

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Mildred Macrae, Mrs. Margaret Schilling swapped her "trapping and rifle life" for town life here. At 31, she is a veteran of the out-of-door trapping and shooting, now just a housewife.

Born in England, she came with her parents to Hurlingham, Ont. in 1877, and two years later, moved to the Yukon territory. After another two years, she and her mother and brother, travelling by covered wagon, reached Lake Umbagog, 200 miles north of Saskatoon.

It was three months before I saw a white woman, and then it was hard to speak to her — the "squeaky German," says Margaret. Margaret joined her first rifle, and after two years, she was well-versed on the steel jaws of a trap and set her first mouse at 13 years of age.

"One day I used to lay the trapline, then I paroled it while he cared for the cattle," Margaret said. "I used to ride Coyote, my pet horse. We could read each other like a book."

It was Margaret, turned her hand to herding that she had to do. Her product line—a pair of 10-inch black rubber wolf boots—has been a success.

Mrs. Schilling helps run her parents' business, a small hotel and restaurant in this northeastern British Columbia community.

The closest she comes nowadays to the lynx, mink, deer and other animals she once hunted are the pelts hanging on the walls or made up in garments.

But her 21 repeating rifle is well used, and she says: "I'll be out on the trails again next summer."

Modern Version of Old Chinese Dress in Show

LONDON (Reuters)—A modern Chinese dress, version of a 1,500-year-old Chinese dress highlighted the fashion show in Commonwealth House. Show which opened here Tuesday, featuring the Chinese dress, the latest evening dress was one of many garments illustrating the latest fashions and developments of costume.

The dress, with a hand-bleached skirt, was bordered with tiny beads and sequins in pink and blue.

Adaptability and comfort of cotton was demonstrated in several of the garments—designed, beaver, day and evening.

At the garments, set by lead garment manufacturers throughout the Commonwealth, were made in crease — retaining perfect fabric with a new silk-resistant, wrinkle-resistant finish. In practical terms, the dress that food and conditions accidentally spilled can easily be wiped off without leaving a stain.

Large Number Of Parents Out For Meeting

The Belleville Collegiate and Vocational Home and School Association held its January meeting last evening.

It was "Guest-Teacher Conference Night" and an unusually large number of parents took advantage of the opportunity to have an interview with their child's teachers in the respective classrooms.

Mrs. R. C. Williams, the president presided at a short business meeting, during which time a resolution was passed by Mr. W. J. McGuire and seconded by Mrs. McGuire, that the year copies to Federation be paid, as well as the year copies to Central Council, and a donation to the Junior Hockey Association, which is made each year by the various Home and School Associations, through Central Council.

Mrs. C. W. Taylor, gave a warm welcome to all parents present, explaining that the interview was for last five minutes only, and if more time was required an appointment could be made for a later date. Mr. O. expressed the hope that parents would feel free to contact the assistant principal, or him, the assistant principal, or the teachers at any time.

Presently at eight o'clock the teachers and representatives of the Keweenaw Club, who were a great deal of interest displayed by the parents, many of them for a long time for a chance to speak to the teachers.

It was felt that the evening was beneficial to the teacher as well as the parent as many more problems were cleared away in a short space of time, and while the interview was in progress it was becoming better acquainted with others who had the same interest in common, namely, their children.

Plainfield W.I. Hears Talk On C.A.S. Work

The January meeting of Plainfield W.I. was held in the hall on the evening of January 2nd with an attendance of 80, including the members and families of the community at a potluck and supper.

After all had partaken of the repast, the president, Mrs. Swan, read a letter from the W.I. of New York.

Mrs. Hallam and Mr. Deane, from the Hastings County Thelwell Association, showed two interesting films, the first on "Spreading the Word," the second, "The W.I. Work," a voice of thanks was extended to both gentlemen.

Collier made by Don Hensley and Garret Hart was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Hart, from the Belleville Child Welfare, gave an interesting talk on the C.A.S. doing in part. "The Children's Aid is an organization set up with a heart and a brain, so the children's welfare work was set up for this purpose. Mrs. Hart's area includes the district from Deseronto to Trenton and Lake St. Peter. Three workers visit where problems in homes exist, and they try to keep the family life from breaking down.

Mrs. Hart came on the staff in June and her work is to try and place the proper children in the proper homes.

"One of the basic things," said the speaker, "is to try and keep the children in their own homes as possible, as that is where the most happiness of little children is found."

"Institutions used to care for a large number of these children, but the past few years, it has been changed; it all comes in under 'old welfare work' now."

"Sometimes these children are hurt inside; they don't always trust us, but they still need love. We ask people to share our work, to become friends, but they need someone to care for them. There is a foster parent with an understanding heart. The children's hope is to be taught and loved by their parents."

Mrs. Hart hoped the W.I. might have a part in the work she is doing.

23 New Fruit Varieties Named at Vineland Experimental Station

VINELAND, Ont. (CP) — Research workers have developed 23 new fruit varieties and named them at the Ontario Agricultural Experiment Station at Vineland, Ontario, today.

They may also claim to be the first to produce a peach which is both hard and juicy.

All new varieties produced at the station, one of the continent's largest horticultural research centres, begin with the letter V, and within their proper name the V sound to mark their place of origin.

The V's of the Penitentiary's V's — both fruit and berry players — were named at Vineland about 30 years ago. The V's were named for the well-known V's of the Penitentiary's V's — both fruit and berry players — were named at Vineland about 30 years ago.

Now Penitentiary is known as the peach capital of Canada and its hockey team was named for the Penitentiary.

The Penitentiary V's became famous in 1924 when they won the Allan Cup and the senior Canadian amateur hockey title. The same year V's defeated Russia for the world hockey crown.

as director of the station, says Vineland considers one selection from 10 needs a good yield.

New work under way at the station includes a research in the manufacture of food-type wine, which will be a first-year wine which gives the wine distinct bouquet. Scientists at Vineland have perfected a fast-growing yeast and mechanical agitation equipment which they claim will produce a marked saving effect on the wine within three weeks. In Europe, food-type sherry wines normally take between two and three years to make. One scientist is working on the preparation of bottled and carbonated fresh fruit juice. Others are studying various types and methods of canning and preserving fruits and vegetables. The laboratory holds many refrigerating cases at temperatures varying down to below zero where running results and deep-freeze techniques are watched.

WINNIPEG (CPI)—One of Canada's most valuable fresh-water fishing industries, spawned in the furber and trapping days of the Northwest, is having its troubles.

One of the biggest trout, commercial fishermen say, is a declining catch of lake trout in accessible regions. Obstacles include changes in processing and marketing, the continuing small proportion of fish in the catch and the increasing competition from cheaper ocean fish.

Manitoba, with lakes and rivers covering 12 per cent of its total area, has 100 lakes with 28,500,000 pounds of commercially caught fresh-water fish each year, a market value of about $5.50.

SELLING PROBLEM
 Nearly all the catch — mostly pickerel, whitefish and jackfish — is exported to the United States.

G. S. Jonasson, marketing manager of one of Manitoba's leading producers of Heryon brand live fish, says that Canadians live far from large centres and cold storage facilities. They can't buy their fish like they can buy their milk. Hence, he says, marketing, leading rural diets low in fish content, has changed a good deal.

Twenty years ago people in the north and west ate fish only throughout the country. Today, fish are filleted, frozen and packaged in small bundles. The way of life has changed.

Most of Manitoba's commercial fishing is done in the three largest lakes—Lake Winnipeg, Lake Manitoba and Lake St. Charles—in the centre of the province. Fishermen who have worked on these lakes for decades say the fish population now is not so plentiful. Catch rates for the famous golden perch, for instance, dropped from 556,000 fish in 1936-37 to a low of 61,000 in 1966-67.

Marketing Board Hears Minister

Mr. Jonasson says changes in water condition probably account for most of the disappearance of the warmer climate has brought modern luxuries.

The Manitoba government has taken steps to protect its fish population, including strict catch limits to prevent over-fishing, a poison scheme to kill off predator

The government also has seven fish hatcheries for restocking purposes. Last year, it planted 77,000,000 whitefish eggs, 200,000,000 pickerel and 250,000,000 trout. The trout is mainly for sport fishing.

But, says Mr. Jonasson, many

Never Anything Like Emigrants' Queue in London

LONDON (Reuters) — Canadian political commission of the left-wing Daily Mirror says that there have been something in recent living memory like that daily seen outside the immigration office in London.

"That the speed of this exodus is connected with what I have done in the last six months is no coincidence," he adds. "The whole drift of 'let's get away from it' is the accumulation of the last 12 years."

Another tabloid newspaper, the right-wing Daily Sketch, applauds the emigrants and seeks to ally the "refugee" in many instances caused by the rush to go abroad. "It is all our people stay at home the Commonwealth's job's tomorrow will be solved by people of other races," it tells its readers. "They will certainly emigrate to us rather."

TV Laws Defied, Reception Good Deep in Mine

THIMINS (CP) — This may confound the experts but gold miners here say they watched television on an antenna and received 1,000 feet below ground.

The experiment was conducted Tuesday night by engineers from television station CFCF.

TV, a five-element Yagi antenna and a 14-inch-screen receiver were set up at the 1,000-foot level in Hollinger gold mines.

Miners who had worked five minutes to watch say reception was fine.

Results of the experiment appear to confirm all the laws of television which say a signal is blocked by the solid bulk of mountains or even buildings.

Poland Ousts Farm Minister

WARSAW (AP)—Poland ousted its minister of agriculture Wed and put the Polish farming industry on a firmer economic basis. The radio said Agriculture Minister Antoni Kuligowski had been recalled from his post by the council of state, and Edward Ochab named to succeed him.

Ochab, a former Communist president of the central trade union committee, was made leader of the Communist party last March. He was replaced in that job when Wladyslaw Gomulka staged a comeback in the peace of October revolution.

Measures for agricultural reform include a cut of one-third in compulsory grain deliveries and a 100-percent increase in state payments for grain.

CAN SELL LAND

In the future the legal rights of all landholders will be guaranteed and the right to buy, sell and lease land less than 50 acres (about 125 acres) in area has been reintroduced.

The state will give full support to peasants and small and medium farmers, at the same time removing restrictions which have hindered production and development of privately owned farms.

Ten Hungarian Refugees Sent Back to Austria

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says 10 Hungarian refugees have been returned to Austria—eight of them for making false statements or misrepresentations to get into the United States. The other two asked to go back.

In making this information public on Tuesday, the immigration service declined to identify the 10, or say whether communism or subversion was a factor in any of the cases.

Immigration Commissioner Joseph Swing said the action came as a result of a continuing investigation of the 19,000 Hungarians who have arrived so far at Camp Limerick, N.J.

The service said those ordered out of country included:

A family of five, accused of making false and fraudulent statements in obtaining visas. Three persons, charged with making "misrepresentations" in connection with their "parole" admissions. The parolées are admitted on an emergency basis and are not guaranteed permanent status.

HOMEWORK ERROR

Combine frustration and humiliation and the chemical reaction which results produces one part humility and five thousand parts anger. This is the formula for the homework error.

This editorial is being written in that spirit, following the discovery the other night that we are no longer as well read as we made it. It was based on a piece of English which has been published in the paper, and despite all that is taught in Grade 7 most questions about the language present themselves as problems, rather than as right answers to unimpeachable queries. This failure, though, was in mathematics, where there is only one right answer, and in the Grade 7 level. Mathematics also chances to be the one realm in which our school-fallacious claims to knowledge have remained relatively intact. Getting five different answers to a Grade 7 arithmetic question, though, puts even greybeards under great strain. Fortunately, however, we took another look at the question, one involving cancellation with some nine two-digit numbers on top and nine two-digit numbers on the bottom. The answer, as described numbers and calculations, was correct. The answer was in the head but unrecorded and later forgotten.

What was the ability to arrive at the correct answer to such a question?

There was only one possible answer—no use at all. There unquestionably was a time when an ability to do such a problem might have been a useful skill in an office, but that time has passed. The answer, guaranteed correct, can be obtained today in a fraction of the former time the use of a calculator.

Our second question involved Kinds. Could he have made the same mistakes we had done?

There was only one possible answer—no use at all. It might easily have done so. For the mistakes were not in the realm of mathematics, but in the realm of the uncalculable, but the result of sheer carelessness, of which being human, he might have been guilty under similar circumstances.

Our third question was about the groundwork. The answer was in the head but unrecorded and later forgotten.

What was the idea of giving a child a question like that?

Immediately there came an unwanted answer—to teach a child not to be careless.

Now that is unquestionably one of the most important lessons any of us can learn.

We wonder, though, whether this should be taught at such a grave risk, which is the great danger that many of us face, is that we should be so sure of ourselves that we never do use mathematics, will decide that he or she is not a mathematician. Why chance killing an ability to use mathematics, which is a tool, for the sake of a few minutes of time? The answer, though, is that the groundwork has even been done, and the answer is in the head but unrecorded and later forgotten.

THE ONLY FACTION
We learn with surprise that The Times of London some time ago initiated a campaign to remove fiction from libraries and supplant these books with non-fiction. The move, however, was not a new one. It has been found support from a number of other leading newspapers in Britain. Nor have the newspapers been without allies in the ranks of writers and editors. The librarians, the librarians, Dr. Chandler, chief librarian of the University of Toronto, has been heard to say that while a "fictionless" library had been necessary during the depression years, the institutions should now re-examine their functions.

The editor of the Stratford Beacon-Herald takes issue with Dr. Chandler on the grounds that "the depression years are still with us and look like being so for a long time to come." While economic conditions have improved, the depression is still with us, and it makes the people's need to read recreational literature no less great today than in the thirties, thinks the Beacon-Herald.

This is a point well taken, but our own objection to the "Times" campaign is based on wholly different grounds.

There are many great works of non-fiction, but it appears that the greatest works of literature are being taken out of libraries. Will George Bernard Shaw be remembered as "An Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism" or "The Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism"? What books on the sea can tell you more than "The Sea" by D. H. Lawrence? What books on the sea can tell you more than "The Sea" by D. H. Lawrence? What books on the sea can tell you more than "The Sea" by D. H. Lawrence?

The bright new years that's under Did they not sow the fields with
As only twelve brief months to The school bell rings. The young
It was not long designed to last,
The January days are passing
It is appearing on history's page.

Young students in some modern
On children's fifty-year-old book
And try to find some hidden clue
And wisely in debate discuss
Not only time, but also good.

Events are made made Good, and Deep in men's hearts perfection
Are products of the human will
From them lose faith, then beauty
From them must come eventually There'd be no temple ripe to use

Your Horoscope

Look in the section which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, for:

★ Saturday, Jan. 12, 1957

★ March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — A substantial part of day's political and social interests and activities especially favored. However, use caution in hazardous matters, handling sharp tools, etc.

★ April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Your planetary aspects stress extra care in personal matters. Consideration of action, home interests, children urged.

★ May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Be pointed in word and action to not make needless errors or careless decisions. Be careful, honest and conscientious. Contact, making promises. You can achieve if consistent.

★ June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — This is a day in which to nurture emotions or indulge in self-pity. Fickle tasks with enthusiasm. Matter how tedious or burdensome they may be and you will gain ground and area. Beware of petty color.

★ July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Look to better yourself and your efforts — but without unrestrained to others, or over-straining. Carotene now could thwart plans.

★ August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — This period may not bring you all you like. It is a time of conservatism and reasonableness. Will aid efforts will reach for the moon. Be satisfied with moderate gain.

★ September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Communications, patience and satisfaction with reasonable advancement or gain in all you need — of peace, of course, honest and conscientious effort. A fine day for quiet rest.

★ October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Do your share to maintain even, constructive activity through out working hours unless your day should be free for relaxation, and don't hold unreasonable demands. Drive careful deliberations.

★ November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — This may be a somewhat dull and unattractive day. But try to realize that this is generally so for many — in business, profession or domestic affairs. No mind your own business, but do not do so.

★ December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — This may be a somewhat dull and unattractive day. But try to realize that this is generally so for many — in business, profession or domestic affairs. No mind your own business, but do not do so.

★ January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius) — Not entirely generous aspects. But you have had to be careful in your personal matters need strict scrutiny. The smartly energetic one will have a good share of benefits, however.

★ February 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — Activities in your particular line should give you pleasure as well as bear fruit, if, of course, you have faith and use your talents right. Meet obligations head-on.

You born today have considerable cleverness to develop: are versatile, restless, quick of mind and action. You may sometimes be difficult to get along with; but again most gracious, generous, sympathetic. Always toward consistency, use of action and tolerance of others. Don't scatter your energies in too many directions. Other ways ideas, hostilities, suggestions to high bearable behavior, but also listen to others' proposals and suggestions. This is vital to best results, harmony, and health. Birthdate: John Hancock, early Amer. statesman.

Your Car Have Headlights Focused Properly

By EUGENE MILMOE

Not every required to take care of not, every considerable and safe driver will automatically dim his headlights when he comes within 175 yards of an oncoming car, or when following another.

But, sometimes this courtesy can save a very different effect—such as a condition is not at all unusual—the low beam light just as the bright lights glow.

Headlight may become misaligned in any direction—left, right, up, or down. When the beam is improperly directed, it also means that the light or upper beam from person is not entirely effective and safe.

It's easy to see why an occasional test of head aim is a safe check. Let's see:

(1) Driver: "Would appreciate an eye-to-understand description of the trouble known as 'proportionate' in the true that extremely low beam light cause proportionate." (2) Driver, pre-ignition means the fuel mixture is ignited before there is a spark from the spark plug. (3) Driver, pre-ignition means the fuel mixture is ignited before there is a spark from the spark plug. (4) Driver, pre-ignition means the fuel mixture is ignited before there is a spark from the spark plug.

From E.F. "The household wire on my car, which are operated by a vacuum unit, the foot pump, have very noticeably decreased in power lately. In checking for the possible cause of this, I discovered a 'popper' sound when the foot pump could be the cause of a punctured diaphragm in the pump. This is a 1932 light-duty cylinder model with a combination foot pump. The vacuum pump diaphragm was replaced about four months ago.

(A) Double-check the vacuum pump diaphragm. The windshield wipers will show up at high speeds pump operation will be noisy if this diaphragm is too tight, loose, punctured or installed incorrectly.

O.S. writes: "The battery charged on my car continues to show a high charge regardless of how long or fast the car is driven. I have taken the car to a few mechanics and they have all said it is just a new one, but it's still not dead."

(A) It is neither the regulator nor the ammeter itself is at fault, but a possible ground in the generator or wiring. I assume, of course, that the mechanics have already eliminated the possibility of a low or over-charged battery.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., (AP)—Go ahead and shiver. An expert says it will actually make you feel warmer in the January cold. Dr. Edward F. Adams of the University of Rochester said Tuesday that shivering is a heating of muscle which produces heat and helps the body maintain normal temperature.

Newfoundland and Why

By Lavonia Stackelbach

BASTILLE DAY

One comes from "Fortune" in Newfoundland to St. Pierre by way of an ex-fishing schooner of 30 tons converted into a run around boat, but a passenger boat. For the present, pilot of the S.C.M.P., who have taken the joy out of the smuggler's life in this section of the high seas.

The latest entry, but the most interesting, was the arrival of a cargo, causing some panic and the annoyance of being rowed to land, also a delay of days while the damage was attended to in drydock at St. Pierre. That caused some of the greatest stress that the dividends of the telephone company must have gone up considerably.

Bastille began in a sunshine that lasted all day, a remarkable feat by itself for this cloudy day. The Bastille was a prison fortress throughout the country, but it fell early on one of the greatest streets towards the left, justice that the people of St. Pierre.

Described by CARLISLE
If you can stand reading Carlyle, you will find intense interest in the account of its storming by the half-fancied people of France, but that of the French Michellet is greater.

In the first place, the king could not go to these fortress prisons any more he wanted to without benefit of trial by military court.

Of trial by military court, of arrest called letters de cachet. They were sent and forgot. Then, Voltaire spent several unenviable years there, but the most shocking fact was that these orders of arrest, to be filled in as with high prices, to be filled in as with high prices, to be filled in as with high prices.

Within its thin-foot thick stone walls, the enemies of a Pompadour, a du Barry, for example, could be forgotten. The growing resentment of the people of Paris over night became almost an attack on this fortress. Later on, the French Revolution was given way to most dreadful excesses, but this first conquest was a play as if by miracle when men did courage, manufactured arms and captured the accomplices with scarcely any loss of life.

It had been selected then, the island, the last fragment of the old monarchy of France in America.

TOWN DECORATED
The kind cook at the hotel had a very breakfast prepared for the guests. There was a slight difference to the manner in which the word "early" but by nine the guests were in the hall and were ready, and after the walk down to the harbor to read the news.

"Just a Second"

There were lovely children to be admitted. One very elegant man in a wonderfully elegant coat was grasped in the height of the fashion, including lace gloves. "Oh, my sister," said the transducer proudly. It was a chilly day, although the sun was shining, and the girls their most sumptuous.

The official program began with the playing of the Marseillaise by the local band. The last time the most stirring of national anthems was at the welcome home to Joffre in New York. Many French folk songs were played, and one procedure of those most frequently heard during the First World War.

There were to be fireworks in the evening, but the heavy fog that came in forced that to be abandoned. But a few people to the confetti, streamers, with all sorts of carnival edifice, laughter, and talk. Groups formed and reformed, and the mad curious combinations continued, and here and there a few Americans was glad to find one to talk to.

It is hardly to be considered a tourist resort, but there must have been quite twenty three, all at one time, the time the schooner was in drydock for repairs and delayed their return. It was not pleasant, their two weeks in the island and their own, likewise, but what can you do about it? And on way off the island except by plane or boat.

New Chance for Emotionally Disturbed Cottage School for Girls

At St. Bruno, near Montreal, lies the Girls' Cottage School, built and financed by the Department of Social Welfare and of Youth of the Province of Quebec, and assisted by the Welfare Federation of Montreal. To this pleasant institution, emotionally disturbed girls between the ages of 11 and 17 are sent by the courts for help in growing into useful adult citizens. Here they are given the guidance they need in a friendly atmosphere.

The girls receive the normal discipline all teenagers require but there is no physical training. They enjoy picnics, sports and dancing in the assembly hall which is also used as a gym and theatre.

Regular schooling is provided, and, if interest is shown, courses in shorthand and typing. As natural science is a popular subject, the girls are frequently taken to the museum to add to their store of knowledge.

Each of the four cottages has a lounge, kitchen and laundry room on the main floor with bedrooms above. Recreation is carefully supervised and the girls are introduced to good books and good music.

Most have their own rooms with a place for personal treasures. Like all girls, they enjoy trying out new hair-dos and adorning walls with pictures of their favourite singer or actor.

It seems like a big world out there. Although taught to take place in society, it still seems natural for a young girl to wonder if she can cope with life's problems on her own. It is a comfort to many to know that they can continue to benefit at all times from the wise counsel of the staff who are highly qualified specialists in social work and psychology.

NO Cut in Taxes
WASHINGTON (AP)—A balanced budget calling for record 100,000,000 in expected to be sent to the U.S. Congress Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

Offsetting this $3,000,000,000 increase over the current rate of government spending—much of it for military purposes—the president is expected to forecast a rise in revenues to about $73,000,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This anticipated surplus is not enough to encourage hopes for any cut in individual income taxes this session of Congress.

Macmillan Will Help Relations With Americans

LONDON (Reuters)—British and American world policies are apart by the Soviet crisis, are expected to draw closer after the appointment of Harold Macmillan as Britain's new prime minister.

Macmillan's assumption of office has caused little political effect in the wake of British's previous appointments. The new member, who is a full substantial member of British and American policy.

Macmillan's appointment has been expected to draw quarters here expect an equal number of personal contacts with the normal functions of American relations — to result from a meeting between Macmillan and Eisenhower.

The resignation of Sir Anthony Eden and his retirement by Macmillan has removed a common factor between the two sources here. This factor was that President Eisenhower was personally disillusioned by Eden's resignation.

ANNOUNCED BY REBENTZEN

The Anglo-French break-up of the European Committee on the Soviet affair, after a 15-year history of close cooperation, is described by diplomatic sources as a growing rift between the two governments.

Assuming that direct military action would be necessary, the influence in the area, stop the Israeli-Arabian conflict and the two other capitals, even the two governments acted alone.

The consequent loss of the new practice of cooperation between the Big Three Western powers was a serious blow. For some weeks there was little contact between Washington and the two other capitals, even the two governments acted alone.

There have been a number of recent instances of the resumption of the Anglo-French policy.

COORDINATED ANSWER

The three governments sent a coordinated answer to the Soviet Union last month to the November disarmament proposals of Premier Khrushchev, rejecting his offer for a "summit" disarmament conference at the present time.

Britain's Conservative government is pleased by the formation of the "Eisenhower doctrine" for the Middle East, which is taken as a logical justification of at least some of the thinking which prompted the Soviet demand.

There is a tendency to place too much stress on the fact that the United States was prepared to assume the responsibility in the Middle East, which was the responsibility of Eisenhower, many anti-Western outsiders in the area in 1956 would never have taken place.

British official sources are confident time eventually will bring the French policy by Anglo-French policy.

DESERVING Hobby Club Plans Coming Teens-age Dance

DESERVING — The Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Deserving with 18 members. Mrs. N. H. Thomas was in the chair. There was a very pleasant and one visitor present.

A letter from Mrs. Weber was read, thanking the members for their gift to her when she left Deserving for Allen Creek.

A most amusing and entertaining time in hymns was also read from Charles Clay, of "Pole Riders' Luck," at Deserving, on Black Lake, and this brought back the idea evening the Hobby Club was held in the "Clays" building when Mrs. Deserving was in charge.

As guest speakers when they were living in Deserving, the report on the New Year party was given, and it was regretted that more members had not taken advantage of this, as such a good time was held by those who did attend.

Mrs. Ken Jackson gave a report on the teenagers meeting held the night before when tentative plans for a teenagers dance were made.

Committees were appointed consisting of one Hobby Club member, and one teenager as chairman of each committee and as follows: Program Committee — Clifford John and Mrs. Pina Walker; stewards and "on the door" — Martin Herring and Mrs. Margaret Cole; dancing — Ward Dawson and Mrs. Florence Seasmith; refreshments — Liz Griffiths and Mrs. Estelle Jackson.

The teenagers, themselves, were a set of rules, which consisted of no drinking, and no smoking, and no leaving until 10 P.M.

Mrs. Jackson, as chairman of the committee for the dance, asked if the club would be willing to put up $50 for expenses.

Mrs. Thomas moved that Mrs. Jackson be given $50 for the project. This was agreed to by all. The Hobby Club will hold a Friday evening from 8-12 at the First's Community Hall. The question of how much the club would contribute to the Boy Scout Fund for sending Clifford John to the Jamboree in England this year, was held over until next meeting, which will be held on January 22nd at the home of Mrs. H. T. Truett.

The supper table was donated by Mrs. Seasmith, was won by Mrs. G. Walker.

Johnstown

FACING THE NEW YEAR

JOHNSTOWN — Johnstown held its Sunday School and Church on Sunday afternoon with the Rev. G. A. Patterson in charge. The Scripture reading was from Hosea and St. Matthew. Mr. Patterson said: "As we face the New Year, I thought we might read about the people of Israel. You know that people of this day thought mainly of material things in their relationship to God and tried to buy their way into the Kingdom, but God would our steadfast love and faithfulness. The New Year is a time to make new resolutions. The Bible makes much of making the right choice of things which is most important."

In Home's day the people would do all sorts of things and expect the Lord to help them just the same. The personal relationship of men with God is the same now as in Home's time. God wants a dedicated life based on love of God. To have this must find this in God, something they will not find anywhere else.

Some dedicated men were Moses going out in Egypt to bring the Israelites to the promised land, Job and above all our Lord. There are many men and women in this day who are outstanding for their Lord, the minister of God, and in various ways speaking through His prophets and proclaiming the word of God. We need to consecrate our lives afresh every day. If we give ourselves to God, He will give Himself to us.

If we cease to love Him and get tired of touch with Him, there is nothing we can find that will make up for Him. We should be "supper for him."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was held at the service.

Schools are Prime Targets For Freedomites Who Claim Children Taught Militarism

By DAVID BOWEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
New DENVER, B. C. (CP)—Spotlight outline buildings and armed guards patrol grounds at schools in the Kootenay district of British Columbia every night. In the past, school buildings and railway tracks have been burned and bombed in this southern area of the province. Four of freedom, radical Dutch "boers".

The guards and lights are needed so that the school property can be covered by fire insurance.

The schools are prime targets for the freedomites who claim children are taught militarism in Canada's educational systems. Some refuse to allow their children to attend.

Unsuccessful in 30 years of attempts to resolve the problem, the freedomites of the Kootenay district are taking children from the radical group and sending them to a former station in this community, 66 miles from Nelson.

Three now are at children at the dormitory run by the education department. They are kept there until they are 15 years old.

They go to school with another 100 Canadian children—from the village and surrounding areas.

John Clarkson, principal of both the new D.C. elementary school and dormitory, says the freedomites write down quickly "Often we get children who say 'I'd always wondered why my father wouldn't let me go to school'."

"Some of these kids are 12 and 13 when they're brought in and they can't read or write. Most of them are smart and keen to learn. We just want to get them out of the school as soon as possible."

Most of the children are in grades from the first time at 12 to 13 are given specialized instruction. The object is to get them through up to four grades in a year.

With STRANGERS
Although most of the freedomites were shy to talk to a reporter on short notice, those who did said they liked the school.

Mr. Clarkson says there is no discrimination. New Denver school also has Japanese—Canadian children and many recent European immigrants.

At their dormitory Japanese cooks prepare vegetarian meals to conform with Quakerlike tem. The children have a gymnasium, movies twice and sometimes three times a week, and mountain-riding. Skene Lake at 80 children learned to swim, went to school and played baseball team performed with the success in the River Valley Play League. Joe Locky is the favorite winter sport.

All their clothes are provided for the government. There is no provision for pocket money. Most parents come to provide supplies, spending money and children not earn it by doing extra work in the home.

James Galt, a member of the American Society of Friends service committee, adviser on Quakerlike affairs in Nelson, says the cost of looking after the children amounts to more than $7 a day—each—more than $250,000 a year.

In New Denver, most of the village look upon the experiment as a concerted effort to solve the Quakerlike problem, school inspector Nelson Allen said.

The biggest opposition comes from the school board, which is understood to be the school board. However, Mr. Allen reports last week the government's "get together" policy was introduced less than two years ago, a number of freedomite parents brought their children to school rather than have them taken away.

From in Kootenay, capital of the South, an hour's drive from Nelson, children are at school.

The Sons of Freedom have protested frequently through official channels and except last summer tried to strip Mr. Galt—who they claimed was responsible for taking the children away—they have not used violence.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED
How far has the go-to school program succeeded?

A year ago groups of freedomites were reported fasting while "waiting for the word of God." In the past, the "word" had been to burn schools, dynamite railways bridges and tracks, and parade in the streets.

But in the last six years there have been fewer in comparison to the years of greatest violence between 1917 and 1920.

Mr. Galt, who came to Nelson at the request of the federal and provincial governments, but in the problem may have cleared up "much faster than we thought" if a firm, friendly and fair in January.

policy on education is followed for several years.

School officials such as Mr. Clarkson and Mr. Allen say that when the program has been going a few years and children can be brought to the school at a younger age for a longer period, the possibilities of breaking down the freedomite power will be better.

Mr. Galt says the evidence points to the children becoming more law-abiding. They will, he says, be able to tell what their parents told them about school was wrong.

WON'T ANSWER RUMORS
OCHO BROS. Jamaica (AP)—Marilyn Monroe is having "funny" uncles, but she won't say yes or no to rumors she is pregnant.

The actress and her playwright husband, Arthur Miller, are vacationing at Montpelier, a large house on Jamaica's north coast.

The Millers, who were married last June, are returning to New York Thursday after two weeks there.

Royalty Gathers For Wedding

PARIS (Reuters)—A galaxy of European royalty have gathered for a three-day celebration marking the wedding of the daughter of the pretender to the French throne.

More than 50 members of European royal families will attend civil and religious wedding ceremonies of Princess Helene, 25-year-old daughter of the Count of Paris, and Count Robert de Flanders, 23-year-old Belgian aristocrat.

The couple will live in Southern Rhodesia, where the count made a ranch.

Schools are prime targets for members of the Sons of Freedom, radical segment of the Doughbois, living in the Kootenay district of British Columbia. Some disband members refuse to allow their children to attend school, claiming they are taught militarism. The B.C. government, in an effort to find a solution to the Doughbois problem, now is taking freedomite children from their families and sending them to school. At New Denver, 66 miles from Nelson. In this photo, taken at Kootenay, capital of the South, Billy Stoochhoff shows school book to friends who do not attend school. (CP from National Film Board)

REPERE BUCKS

Seniors "A" and clubs from all parts of the province are expected to be up in arms over the inefficiency of OHA-appointed referees.

Down here in the eastern neck-of-the-woods the Cornwall Chevies have officials from the nearest town, representing the officiating of referees from parts of Ontario. Four Cornwall linemen have served notice to the Chevies to recommend they will not get it until a referee is assigned to Cornwall.

The point flared in recent divisions and between the Western Ontario senior "A" division and the Northern Ontario Hockey League senior group. Both claim the officiating of the respective referees is anything but efficient.

The refereeing down this way without pointing the barb at any one official in particular has been anything but up to par. Last Friday night a crowd of 5,000 fans boomed and roared program on the ice in protest against official ratings.

Clubs of the eastern group playing in Cornwall and Pembroke have anything but kind words for the officiating done in these centers by referees from the Ottawa district.

The few times here where there has been little or no snow, over referees have occurred when the players themselves decided to play the game "as she should be played" and not under the rules, deserved or otherwise, of the man with the authority.

In the Western Ontario division of the Senior "A" League the Oshawa, managers of the Kitchener Dutchmen have written the OHA National manager requesting that Jack Thompson (the has been here) be not assigned to any more games. The president that the OHA has agreed to have Thompson be heard at the meeting of the OHA senior council scheduled for Toronto on Thursday of this week.

One of the various referees who have been requested by OHA National manager Bill Hanley to show present report for the referees. Murphy Chamberlain of the Chatham Maroons and Vince Blair of the Chatham Maroons have been "crimes" that should have gotten them the have-been but both got off with a slap-on-the-wrist and a threat to discipline them of their league. The OHA group of referees, however, the club officials for their "attempts to belittle referees."

Mr. Gorman's letter continues to this action was "It looks as if the OHA is going to continue blindly on its course of supporting referees, no matter how inferior their work may be."

Click (Stanford House Herald) Aspet commenting on the latest story "That is a serious matter. The OHA is not to do it and it's hoped that Bill Hanley and Frank Buckland, the OHA president, are told that the referee's meeting. "They can do no wrong," said to the referee's meeting. "The OHA over and the refereeing conditions."

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

YOU WANT A HUSBAND? JOANNE, YOU'RE JUST UPSET

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

Two months ago, I'm in the 14th year of my life.

My problem is that the girls I like don't want to be bothered with me.

They think I'm a little too serious and that I'm too friendly with them.

Because they don't like to go to school with me.

They consider me a "nerd" because I'm not interested in the "pet" and I like to study.

Which they think is foolish.

I would have discussed all this with my mother a long time ago.

She would have said, "Don't go to school with me."

My mother is tired and goes to bed.

My father is a doctor and is very busy.

ST. MICHAEL'S REGIS CLUB

St. Michael's Regis Club met recently in the Knights of Columbus Hall, with president, Mary McDonald, presiding.

It was announced that the cultural committee would present at least one guest speaker each month during this season, with the intention of making the meetings taking the form of table discussions, or panel discussions, on local or nationwide topics.

Bonding team captains were requested to contact their players each week, and advise Dave McElroy, chairman of the athletic committee, of the available cash in the club.

The president thanked the members for their contributions of food, and money to provide a Christmas party for the needy families. These articles were gratefully accepted.

Plans were discussed for a club party to be presented in the library or early March. This, in turn, will be developed in the near future.

A committee composed of Mary Thompson, Kay Morrell and Wayne Johnston.

The cultural committee presented the first of its guest speakers for the season. Doug Payer introduced the playing coach of the Belleville Bulldogs, Armand Giddins, and two of his top players — Billy McEwen and Willie McEwen.

They gave an interesting talk on how to become a player, their life and their work. They also answered every question regarding this position.

The thanks of the club were extended to Joe Derway.

WIFE KNOWS HOW TO CARVE, HUSBAND DOESN'T

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

My husband and I have been married only a few months but have started encountering all sorts of problems. We are planning to begin to invite our friends to our home for informal dinners. But, we have a carving problem. My husband doesn't know how to carve, and insists that I do the carving when we are alone and also when we are for the evening. My mother and father taught us all, girls as well as boys, how to carve and do it right. But wouldn't it look very strange for the wife, instead of the husband, to do the carving?

— Ellen W.

No need to worry about this at all, for I would if your friends would think it "strange" for you to do the carving if you do it well and your husband has no skill or interest in doing it. It is not actually so unusual as you seem to think for the wife to do the carving. If it embarrasses you, you might serve a casserole or more often both, and there is little to be very much free time for drop-in visitors. To telephone beforehand is the safe thing to do, the thoughtful thing to do.

SHOWER PROPER IN THESE CIRCUMSTANCES

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

My dearest girl friend had planned to have a large church wedding and reception last month, and our group of longtime friends were to combine to give her a bridal shower. But because of a very unusual circumstance of illness in her family, she and her fiancé were married the last day of November in her home, with only the families present. We would like to know if it would be proper for us to give her now the shower we had planned to give her. — H.D.

BETTER TELEPHONE BEFORE YOU GO TO CALL

Dear Mrs. Beckman: Please answer for us that question we have been discussing: it is always the proper thing to do to telephone friends to ask if it is convenient for them to have us come to see them? — Reader

My judgment is that today it is practically always necessary, and so the proper thing to do, to telephone friends to inquire if a call would be convenient for them. With the majority of people these are extremely busy days, either

Mother's Helper

"riled" for sandwiches. Stices of cold meats, slices of cheese, or little mounds of cream cheese or cottage cheese. Potato chips, bread, olives, carrots, mustard, vinegar, pickles or other pickles. These are suggestions... make these choices, later in the month. The Birthday Cake, a glow with candles. The cake only for dessert, or do light and ready for you to eat. Ice cream at all traditional, companion. If the budget permits, you might serve two or three saucers for the ice cream, a choice of chocolate sauce, butterscotch, strawberry, and so forth. Happy Birthday, dear Nancy... Happy Birthday to you!"

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT CARDS NOT CORRECT

Dear Mrs. Beckman: Two of the girls who worked in the same office with me have, at the past year, sent printed or station-engraving cards announcing their engagement. I thought this was a nice idea, and now that I am going to announce my engagement next month, I decided to use announcement cards. My parents are not planning to give a party to announce my engagement. Last evening, when I was dining at my fiancé's home, I mentioned this plan I had in mind, and although no one said anything, I felt a queer silence. Apparently, however, at some time during the evening, my fiancé's mother took my fiancé aside and asked him to "suggest" to me that these engraved-announcement cards are generally incorrect, and she hoped I wouldn't send them. Are they really so incorrect? If so, what is correct, when there is to be no engagement-announcement party?

Your fiancé's mother is right, these printed (or engraved) cards announcing an engagement are completely incorrect. Obviously she is to be in the circumstance, as gracious as possible in not telling you to insist on the family. And although this means a disappointment to you, it should be only temporary, and will spare you any embarrassment.

It is not at all necessary, of course, to have an engagement-announcement party. When you decide on the date you are to have your engagement announcement (your parents may send to the newspaper a formal announcement to be published on that date, or you may simply wear your engagement ring in public for the first time, you tell your Happy News to relatives and friends who live nearby and write notes to those who live at a distance, asking everyone to "share the secret" until the date named. At the same time your fiancé tells or writes to his relatives and friends. And, in this simple, correct way, the news is told.

You'll have fun, that I know, if you plan to have a Mike's Own-Sandwich Party, and it's real, by the way, to have a party to plan to serve... and to meet all talented friends of various kinds of bread (white, rye, rye-mustard, brown, rye) with raisins, nuts, bread, or have only heated finger rolls and today's very popular small loaves of cavity rye, the small slices so conveniently

Nasser Requests Explanation Of 'Vague Parts' of Mid-East Proposals by Eisenhower

Power Boats May Be Licensed

OTAWA (CP) — New regulations for operation of power boats on Canadian lakes and rivers, including possible licensing of them, may be issued by next summer, Transport Minister Martin, in a Commons reply Wednesday to Wallace Nesbitt (PC) — Ottawa, said the expectation is that the regulations will be revised by then, although it would depend on progress of other discussions with the Egyptian president's 39th birthday.

Meanwhile, the penalty for dangerous operation of motor-propelled craft on Canadian waters had been increased to a maximum $500 fine from $200. It is said the regulations also were intended to cover "the dangerous operation of any vessel or any water skis, surf boards, water skis or other water skis, and any other water skis."

SETT DISMISSED
HAMILTON (CP) — Mr. Justice Spence of the Supreme Court of Ontario Tuesday dismissed a summary action against a surgeon who said a piece of broken needle in a patient's body. He found that Dr. M. J. Edwards' alleged gross medical judgment was not "negligent," charged by Mrs. Thomas Hild, his patient.

Municipal Group Asks for Right To Lower Speed

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Municipal Association Wednesday asked the Ontario cabinet for the right to lower the maximum speed limit in municipalities to 30 miles an hour from 25 in specified districts.

There was no official comment on the request but it was reported it will be referred.

The request was one of 15 resolutions selected by the OMA from an annual meeting last November.

The resolutions covered taxation of public utilities and environmental education grant increases, air pollution, and established a mental health program.

The resolutions also asked other large agencies or increased grants for welfare and other services which do not benefit poor owners directly.

Another resolution requested councils be allowed to appoint a council member in the event of a retirement or death.

CHICO'S BABY A SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Wickenden of Welland, Ont., were surprised when their supposedly male monkey, Chico, gave birth to a baby shown here on mother's back. They bought the six-month-old monkey last September as a pet for their son and thought Chico to be a male. The Wickendens said that since the birth they have never seen the baby off mother's back. — (CP Photo)

Haig Predicts Election Date As June 17th

OTAWA (CP) — The Senate Opposition leader, Senator John T. Haig, predicted Wednesday that a federal general election will be called Monday, June 17. But he's not alone in that view.

CP Leader Goldwater forecast that same date as long ago as last June, and June 17 has been the most prominent date mentioned by the specialists.

Senator Haig, opening the throne speech debate in the Upper House predicted Parliament will be dissolved April 8 or 9 to one week before the June 17 election date that Parliament must be dissolved at least 10 days before an election.

This would leave only about three months for Parliament to deal with the government's legislative program.

Senator Haig said the main defect in this program is that it proposes nothing to check inflationary trends.

Senator Thomas Crerar (C- Manitoba) asked the Opposition leader to propose a cure.

"That isn't my problem," Senator Haig replied.

Canada Quietly, Politely Urging Britain to Keep NATO Forces in Europe

By Dave McIntosh
CANADIAN PRESS Staff Writer

OTAWA (CP) — Canada is quietly and politely urging Britain to keep its NATO forces in Europe.

London has warned that Britain may have to withdraw two of its four divisions stationed in West Germany as part of NATO's ground defence force.

It is realized here that the United Kingdom is in hard financial straits, but at the same time it is felt NATO has proved effective in Europe and should not be weakened.

Britain has started negotiations with West Germany for continued German financial support of British troops stationed in that country. Germany is contributing $100,000 for the 1956-57 fiscal year but Britain wants this amount doubled in 1957-58.

Informally say Canada is prepared to give Britain all the moral support it can in this matter though this country is not directly involved.

CANADA SUPPORTS OWN
West Germany paid the capital costs for bases in Germany now occupied by the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade Group and RCAF air division. But Canada has always paid the full cost of maintaining its troops in Germany.

Officials do not expect further construction in Canadian camps in Germany would pay.

Another reason Canada wants to keep its forces in Europe is military. Defense officials realize the wisdom of the NATO "trip wire" or "European window" concept.

ground defence. This concept, advanced by senior officers at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, is based on a thin screen of troops capable only of giving warning of enemy attack. Most French forces in Europe have been sent to Algeria and a withdrawal of two British divisions would result in further thinning.

Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the Canadian Joint Chiefs of Staff, has said that the main objective in the "trip wire" idea is that it can't prevent the enemy from overrunning Western Europe.

Objects Coming Into Atmosphere At High Speeds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Rear Admiral Delmer D. Fubry, once head of the navy's guided missiles program, said today that "there are objects coming into our atmosphere at very high speeds."

Fubry said a press conference that "no agency in this country or Russia is able to duplicate at this time the speeds and accelerations which radar and observers indicate these flying objects are able to achieve."

Fubry said he never has seen "flying saucers" but has seen with a number of scientists and engineers who reported seeing strange flying objects.

He added there are signs that "an intelligence" directs such objects "because of the way they are set up largely to tie together a number of UFO — unidentified flying objects — claims being reported throughout the world."

Fubry pointed in the development of radio — controlled

Drone aircraft targets to the Second World War. He added the phrase "guided saucers" was coined by the press, "guided saucers" being a play on words and aerial torpedoes of the time.

"I was rundown and I want other sufferers to know of the relief I got by taking Systena," said Mrs. Mary Primrose, 3 School St., Chatham, Ont.

Missionary Work in Chili Told to Club

IVANHOE—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Club held the first meeting in the new year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson on Friday evening with a good attendance.

Newly elected president, Mr. Arthur Haspi, presided, and opened the program with a poem, the Rev. W. J. Walker led in prayer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Milton Shaw. Plans were made for a pot-luck supper to be held on the first Friday evening in February at the home of Miss Ruth Russell Bille.

A vote of thanks was moved to the program committee for their past year's program.

The Scripture, found in Ruth 1: 12-17 was read by Mrs. Barton Huggarey. A piano solo, "Rock of Ages," was given by Mrs. Milton Shaw. New Year's readings were given by Mr. William Donnan and Miss Kate Fleming. A solo, "Tomorrow" was given by Mrs. Foster Wake and Grant and Terry Thompson sang, "A Lonely Little Town."

The club members were indeed fortunate to have as their guest speaker to Rev. Donald Wilson, and his wife, who are now visiting in father, Mr. Foster Wilson, as Mrs. Wilson.

This largest was two fold. First, because David was born in this community and received his early education at West. Huntington public school, secondly, the Presbyterian Church in Canada are sharing labor with and expenses of Mr. Wilson's work in Chili.

Last year some of the Mission Boards of Canadian churches were requested by the World Student Christian Federation to send someone from Canada to Chili for three years to assist and strengthen the church.

Quoted from Miss Laura Polon, director overseas missions, "Mr. Donald Wilson, who at that time was perfecting his thesis on works in Alberta, volunteered for this special short-term service. He proved himself to all concerned in fact to be well as exceedingly capable in securing the services of a young man so well qualified academically, biologically and with an genuine Christian commitment."

Mr. Wilson brought greetings from the Presbyterian Church in Chili to St. Andrew's congregation. He told of the work in Bolivia, Argentina and Buenos Aires, of the rivers, mountains and deserts. The industries and the people, of the intellectual and scholastic training, the unrest and the frequent revolutions.

Concluding his fine missionary address, Mr. Wilson said the opportunity is given for the assistance of the gospel of Jesus Christ to the people of Latin America.

Mr. Walker, on behalf of club members, expressed thanks to David and Mrs. Wilson for sharing their experiences with the club and wishing them success in their worthwhile work of the church.

Mrs. John McIntosh, thanked Helen and Harold for opening their home.

Justice Minister says Newspaper Raise Justified

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garon says uniform price rises for Canada's leading newspaper are an ordinary market phenomenon when costs are rising and everyone wants the product. He made plain in the Commons that he is not going to launch an anti-inflationary inquiry into the newspaper industry and argued that the industry's new $4-a-ton price books by themselves are not evidence of collusion.

"At a time of rising costs and strong demand, such increases may be explained on the basis of ordinary market behavior and are in themselves evidence of collusion," Mr. Garon said.

He added that the director of his consumer investigation branch, P. MacDonald, shares his feeling that an investigation into the newspaper industry is not warranted on the basis of current price increases.

U.S. Still Feels Poles Try to Be Independent

WASHINGTON (AP)—State department spokesmen were reported to say today that Poland's communist government is still trying to follow an independent course.

The U.S. government is still giving favorable consideration to a request for making surplus goods available to Poland. But they recognize political difficulties within the Communist bloc are in a state of turmoil, and the next few weeks, or even days, could bring developments which would change the American thinking.

The United States has given encouragement to the Polish government of Wladyslaw Gomułka, who took control last fall, in his efforts to bring about a new coalition within the Communist bloc. The statement was issued at the end of a five-day visit to Warsaw by Premier Chen Zhaoli of Communist China.

It accused the U.S. of trying to "sabotage" the Middle East by increasing military aid to Israel and threatening "the national independence" of the Arab states of the Far East. It also charged that the North Atlantic alliance has no aggressive aims.

The statement immediately raised questions in official quarters here as to whether the Polish position is changing. The best informed officials said, however, that Gomułka has been under great Communist pressure to modify his position. It had to be expected, they said, that the association might make a technical retreat.

That the statement is a real step toward a mending a real rift in Poland's drive toward independence.

Sarnia Offered New Plan for Sewage Plant

SARNIA (CP)—A. M. Solder, chairman of the Ontario Water Resources Commission, Wednesday presented Sarnia City Council with a new contract for construction of a sewage disposal plant. Representatives from Chatham, Windsor, Walkersburg, Riverdale, and Niagara Falls were also present.

A resolution introduced by Councillor W. E. Atkinson of Windsor asked that municipalities represented take immediate steps to speed up the construction of the plant. It also asked for a grant to assist in the construction of sewage treatment plants and, if unsuccessful, the same federal government for federal assistance.

Discussion was mainly on the problems related to Sarnia. Mr. Solder assured council the commission is anxious to meet with the widest of the city.

Main points of the new contract were that all buildings constructed by the commission would be for the sewage plant only, at the lowest possible cost, and credit would be allowed for existing land and buildings.

There was no provision in the contract for the province to build a sewage plant and rest it to the municipality.

Jews Oppose Public Schools Teaching Religion

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress Wednesday presented a brief to the Ontario cabinet strongly opposing religious teaching in public schools and urged that parents' right to see that their children are exempted from such teaching be recognized as a matter of public interest.

It said that "no request for inquiry has been received by the DEPARTMENT FROM ANY authorities." Any such request likely would first go to the external affairs department.

Newfoundland Journey

By Lavonia Stockelbach

The fishermen take their coffee from the water, but the work of drying and salting is done by the buyers. There are many drying grounds where the cod are laid out on the poles and the men and women who make the machines are used.

One afternoon was spent driving around, not many miles, but we first went to the Pigeon Cove boat house had just pulled into the dock, and the fishermen were busy disembarking the cod. With a strong splash, it was split open, the entrails dropped into the water, and also many of the "me" they were set for what can be made into more interesting food than cod roe. The "me" is quite good, and where could be found money to start a small business for them? The U.S. processor who do not care to import processed articles, but by doing it themselves. How could a little more be made to be sure, but as I said, it is a little more than a thousand.

In seemed odd that the harbor was not filled with the clamor of fishing boats, neither gulls nor the fulmar petrel which swoops on many of the stamps of these islands. I did not see one, and that was disappointing.

At one end of each boat was a tin pull into which was dropped the liver of the cod. Cod livers are given in all weathering dishes, though now halibut oil is held in greater esteem. They told me that these were the most part frozen and sent to such places as Halifax and Boston.

USED AS FERTILIZER. In the "Frigates" it was interesting to watch the landing parts of the cod wharves through a choppy, drying as it was charred and coming out a coarse meal that was to be used as fertilizer, a decidedly better method than spreading the smelly oil on the fields to disintegrate in course of time.

How horrible was it in Newfoundland to be slowed down behind a truck carrying a load of along a stage track roadway and being obliged to go to the fifteen miles an hour until a spot could be reached that was well enough to pass.

A new industry will be the bet-wilder preserve were finished, but it seems to win great enthusiasm. Perhaps with a little more and much encouragement the women could start in a very small way the export of jam and preserves for these northern low-lying islands have a superior flavor.

INTERESTING DRIVE. It was a beautiful sunny drive, and an interesting one. The chauffeur was well informed and we had much to talk about. He said the island was spent shooting and we discussed his plan to go to the shore for eating as compared with the old-fashioned way of eating. The latter I did not mind, but a very large one did not mind from which we used to get powder pulp and quills from the bladders of Denmark.

They are made of older duck skin from which the feathers have been plucked, however, down on the skin, and are edged with a border of the head plumage of the male. I took more than a hundred skins for one, and when the number of blanks rose to more than a twenty thousand, the Greenland administration stopped the sale. The new used for quills is collected from the nest's lining after the young have flown.

There was one of these ducks in the Bay of Fundy where I used to enjoy its beauty, for the duck had a conspicuous black and white plumage, contrasting black over the breast, lined with pink and the lower parts black. Their family life is most interesting. It is not their only enemy. Ravens, foxes, and gulls eat eggs and hatchlings.

In the autumn, seal, caribou, plover, and "rattlers" pass over in their migration.

SEPARATED BY LANGUAGE. In the hotel, the dining room had two tables, one for English speaking guests and the other for French and Spanish. The language barrier was a surprise.

A Spaniard which occupied it could not determine enjoyed enormously. He had a wonderful photograph either by amateur or the more honest blinding flash, but the worst of all happened here.

We were mostly happy at our table one day when I noticed the old Spaniard was making a record of our morning. Then, with a great joy, he played it back to us and we heard our own voices and saw our faces. A Spanish man can't hear our appearance but not so French. A voter recall. I had heard that never can one recognize one's own voice, the former being most frequently aid by the Indians. In 1713 the Treaty of Utrecht ceded Acadia or Nova Scotia to the British, the French retaining Cape Breton.

More quarrelling. In 1758 about 5000 French were acted by Gov. Laurence and dispersed and New England settled the fertile lands of Acadia. In the Treaty of Paris, 1763, France renounced all claim to the country. Cornwallis thought he could make the Acadians British subjects by means of a oath whereby they promised to give up their religion and shifting them to England's enemies. It did not work.

The fate of St. Pierre-et-Miquelon was that of the French, and when the dispersed Acadians returned to France, they were again sent on their way from St. Pierre and came to St. Pierre, they were not fishermen, and where on this almost barren island could they find soil to cultivate. Some went down as far as South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, but the whole story of displaced persons, displaced as a result of the fortunes of war, makes a sad story of burning, reprisals, deportations and another page of which we are learning at the present day.

Murray Twp. Man Says Threat Made By Road Official

COBBOURG (CP) — Colin A. Crews, a Murray Township farmer, says he was threatened with high court costs by an Ontario highway department official if he continued to fight expropriation of 100 acres of his land.

The highway department has offered $12,000 for the land to be used in construction of Highway 401. Crews asks $25,000 for the land.

His appeal opened Wednesday before the Ontario Municipal Board. Mr. Crews produced a copy of a letter he said he received from J. C. McInnis, an evaluation supervisor with the expropriation department. The letter warned it would cost $200 a day to cover the cost of the department's offer.

The case, considered an important test in the area to be consolidated for expropriated lands, continued.

Girls Have Better Chance to Live Longer Than Boys

TORONTO (CP)—Girls have a better chance than boys of living longer, an Ontario statistician says. The average life expectancy in the province during a five-year period shows:

A study, based on recorded data for the year 1980, is inclusive more than 12 months in the making, analysis by age, sex and cause.

Life statistics are based on the analysis of classifying causes of deaths, adopted in 1980 to try to do away with national differences.

The study shows an average of 44.67 deaths a year during the study period. It shows heart disease and cancer are the major killers, with 38.9 per cent and 14.9 per cent of the deaths respectively.

A recent study of more than 100,000 people aged 65 and over, showed that 75 per cent of the deaths were due to heart disease.

The infant and child mortality rate of this in 1980 was 15.3 per cent. The average annual death toll for the year was only 28, with accidents killing more than 50 per cent of the total.

In the 15-to-30 age group, accidents took a much heavier toll of males than females, the ratio being about 4.5 to one.

In the 30-to-40 age group, falling still accounted for more than 50 per cent of the deaths. Motor vehicle accidents were the largest accidental killer.

Rescue Crews To Remove Bodies Of 26 Men

SPRINGHILL, N.S.—Mine rescue crews prepared to enter the exploded Cumberland No. 4 mine here today to remove the bodies of 26 men who died there after a gas explosion last Nov. 1.

It is a day of harrowing memories for many of this colony's residents. Allegedly thirty-two of their menfolk lost their lives in the blast. Eighty-eight others were saved by heroic rescue, some after being trapped underground more than three days.

Twenty-six metal caskets will be taken to the mine today. They were taken below when the removal of bodies was delayed.

The whole operation depended on the wind. Mine Superintendent William Campbell said a north-west wind would blow the gas away from the mine. It blew from another direction the day after the explosion.

Explosion DANGER He said there is a risk of another explosion. The rescue men, wearing oxygen equipment, will pump fresh air into the depths to keep the gas away from the mine.

The wind must blow strong enough to keep the gas away from the mine. It blew from another direction the day after the explosion.

Former Oshawa Mayor Urges Fund to Help Municipalities

OTTAWA (CP)—A former Oshawa mayor Thursday urged the government to consider establishing a fund from which raised pre-municipalities could borrow money at a low interest rate.

The suggestion was made in the Commons by Michael Starr (PC-Ontario). He said it has become increasingly difficult for municipalities to borrow money for civic projects.

"Municipalities have to compete for money against other sectors which suffer less from the impact of a monetary contraction of this kind, such as private corporations which are able to offer securities at high interest rates because they are not at risk of taxation."

"The information effect of this is that the cost of borrowing for municipalities is higher than their actual credit worthiness."

Starr said that municipalities which help their projects are worthwhile will have to pay the highest interest rates or postpone the projects.

Serious Session Certain to Meet Tories Tuesday

LONDON (Reuters) — Parliament open Tuesday after Christmas.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and his cabinet are expected to face the certainty of a stormy session.

The Labor opposition's bitter attack on Conservative policy and East policy will not be lessened by the absence of Macmillan, caused by Sir Anthony Eden's departure last week because of a broken heart.

Macmillan himself said that the government's foreign policy and that Macmillan was one of the few who were not in the cabinet.

Macmillan already has shown himself impatient over British policy on Egypt. He told the nation last week that the day that he believes history will write the military operations in Egypt.

By retaining Suez, Lloyd George's policy of armed action, at the expense of the peace, is to be shown to have been not so much in support of the Labor's charges.

The Labor party will say the government is not in support of the Suez crisis at any stage.

The day is in directing the military side of the operation.

The day is in directing the military side of the operation.

By a general mismanagement of the Suez crisis, the government is responsible for the threat of higher taxes and unemployment.

It is now in a position to try to get the Suez crisis out of its hands.

RUSSIA CHINA READY TO 'HELP' MID-EAST LANDS

Pledge Aid to Avert Interference by U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Codemongers the Eisenhower doctrine, Russia and Communist China have proclaimed their continued readiness to give Middle Eastern countries "any necessary support" to avert aggression and interference by the United States.

A 1,000-word communique issued Friday night by Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said:

"The governments of the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic are ready to give any necessary support to the peoples of the Near and Middle East in order to avert aggression and interference by the agents of the countries of that region."

The two Communist powers previously had denounced the plan put forward by President Eisenhower two weeks ago for military and economic aid to the Middle East.

The new declaration was included in the joint communique to the 21st session of the Politburo in Moscow. The Chinese premier returned to Beijing last night.

For Monday, Jan. 12, 1937

Austria Angered
As Red Soldiers
Cross Border

VIENNA (AP)—Austria today drafted a strong protest to Hungary about the invasion of Austrian territory by 30 Hungarian soldiers in pursuit of fleeing refugees.

The interior ministry said the soldiers, armed with machine guns, followed the refugees, arrested them and took them to a refugee agency said they were to be sent to Hungary. The Austrian border police refused to return to Hungary. They left the refugees in the hands of the Hungarian soldiers, who were then taken to a refugee camp near the border.

But the tough measures imposed on the refugees have not deterred them from fleeing. They are continuing to cross the border in small groups, and the Hungarian government is accusing them of being spies.

SEVEN HUNGARIAN soldiers were reported arrested in Budapest today after the Hungarian Writers' union had played a big role in the meeting.

HUNGARIAN newspapers also reported the jailing of three refugees who were accused of being spies.

Accused Doctor Urged Careful Probe of Rumors

Detective Superintendent Herbert Hadden said he received told him Adams' conversations that he thought the cloud of rumors which gathered around him were "all God's plan to teach me a lesson."

Hadden, an Scotland Yard investigator, was a major witness at the second week of the preliminary hearing began. Scotland Yard maintains that Adams, 36, is a married man, and was responsible for the death of a woman.

The 36-year-old doctor is accused specifically of murdering Miss Dorothy Morris, who died in 1952 at the age of 81 after receiving a shock of electricity from a device Adams had invented.

UNEXPECTED DOWNFALL
NEW YORK (AP) — A 30,000-gallon water tower said an eight-story left building disintegrated Sunday with a deafening roar.

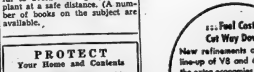

The stream of debris and water injured two persons and left 30 others temporarily homeless. The terrifying pressure of more than 100,000 pounds of water hammered a 75-by-15 foot section of the building's top floor into a stream of rubble. It also shattered windows in the structure.

McFarlands Come From Behind To Earn 3-3 Tie With Kingston CKLC's

Ike Hildebrand, Gordie Bell Stand Out in Comeback Effort; Gain Point on Pembroke Kings

Inspired by the all-out play of diminutive right-winger Hildebrand, the clutch goaltending of Gordie Bell, the Belleville McFarlands fought from an early 3-1 deficit to earn a 3-3 draw-tie with the improved Kingston CKLC's in an Eastern OHA season game last Saturday night.

While the McFarlands ran their winless streak to five games, the tie and three losses single point gained by the McFarlands boosted Pembroke's drive for a playoff berth. The Lumber Kings followed Pembroke's drive with a brilliant victory, scoring a 3-2 decision to Whittier, leaving Belleville with an eight-point point on the Kings while the Elms are but two points back in fifth place.

All the scoring took place in the first two periods before 1830 a.m. in Kingston's Memorial Centre. The home team led 3-1 at the first intermission, then slipped the margin to 3-2 early in the middle session. The Elms launched a determined attack, and scored with two goals by the 15.00 mark, tying the score. Goals by Gord Bell and Bert Brooks followed after the Elms broke back during the third and overtime periods.

The Hildebrand net in person—perhaps his best performance since leaving the McFarlands' ranks. He snuffed on his team's initial liability, the first three goals for the Elms, and after that his value could not be determined on points. He played the puck for the Elms, and backchecked while going at full speed all night.

He was not reluctant to engage with anyone blocking his play. Lumber King Paul Payette and Mike Menard also went well while Hildebrand's team was losing. Payette's penalty killing standing—three successful attempts—helped Crowford and Lionel Bellie net the Elms goal.

Egypt May Alter Attitude Toward UN Police Force

CAIRO (Reuters)—Egyptian newspapers here today reported that the United Nations Emergency Force (UNEF) is not complying with Egyptian demands to withdraw from the Sinai Peninsula.

The resolution, passed by the General Assembly Saturday, requires Israel to withdraw from the Sinai and the Suez Canal Zone.

It is understood here that the Egyptian and Jordanian UN troops contingents will probably follow the UN withdrawal force.

King Hussein of Jordan, meanwhile, said today in an interview with the newspaper Al-Ahram that if Israel does not withdraw "we shall do what we can to compel them to withdraw."

Some of the toughest blows have been dealt to the UN force in certain areas, where the UN force is frequently being attacked and almost everyone agrees.

Well-armed civilians, while with the UN force, have been in the area, and many of their younger sons, who are being born in the modern hospital, staffed by the British, are being born in the area.

before workers were able to reach the first bodies. Then came the grim task of identifying the bodies, placing them in steel caskets and bringing them to the surface.

Meanwhile, work has stopped in the colliery. The 29 miners who were killed will be buried in the 3,500-foot level.

Recreational Director Gives Outline of Work to Kiwanians

Yesterday members of the Kiwanis Club of Belleville observed the 42nd anniversary of Kiwanis International at a luncheon followed by short addresses given by three men: President "Red" Panchard, Past-President A. O. Drysdale, and Lloyd "Red" Dorn, director of the Belleville Recreation Committee, at their regular weekly meeting at the Kiwanis Centre on Dundas St. E.

The special speaker, Mr. Dorn, who is a veteran Detroit Red Wings hockey player, told Kiwanians that "official speaking, those concerned with community recreation on a solid basis take issue with the service clubs for frequently following the 'desire what policy, without regard for overall community needs and without consulting existing plans and systems of activity. They point out that a community is definitely limited in its capacity to handle recreation for recreational purposes, and a project must result in a serious selection of some more important recreation services."

Mr. Dorn added that since his inception Kiwanis has always sponsored a healthy program even though he works as a professional and service club members work as volunteers.

It has happened that service clubs have begun projects enthusiastically but without understanding of the requirements, especially in regard to continuing leadership, maintenance and supervision, and the result has been that the municipal authority has been forced to take over an unplanned, recreational "white elephant" which is a liability to the need for a nomination and plan in which all concerned are known to happen. Mr. Dorn was high in his praise of the work done by service clubs in Belleville.

"The role of the service club in community recreation is very difficult to assess. The extent of their contributions is unmeasured. In most communities, and Belleville is no exception, the service clubs are one, they have a fine list of accomplishments to their credit, and very large sums of money are raised by them each year and spent on recreational projects," added the speaker.

However, beneficial service clubs may be in a community, Mr. Dorn asserted that there are three main difficulties which face these clubs over which they must step to reach their ultimate goal. "The first arises with the fact that each local service club is unique. At times there is an effort made to avoid duplication of service club officials have a tendency to avoid becoming involved in community planning concerns. They are often unaware of the overall community plan for recreation, and are immune to suggestions. Lastly, because club executives change each year projects are in danger of being abandoned or turned to haphazard. Often insufficient care is taken in the choice of projects from the point of view of long-term considerations."

Mr. Dorn said, "It cannot be denied that service clubs serve their communities splendidly — most of the time without publicity for the deeds done. Fortunately, service clubs do not need this, for they are, I think, the epitome of community service."

"They have served their communities in such a manner that they have become invaluable to community progress, and here, the speaker advocated to have various recreation projects put forth by each club laterated, "as though an inter-service club council meeting with the recreation committee."

The guest was introduced and President Panchard, Past-President A. O. Drysdale gave a summary of the financial status of the club and described what the club funds were responsible for accomplishing last year. Last summer the club received the final payment from the Salvation Army for Reddie Lake Camp to which the club's mayor Harvey J. McFarlane and Senator W. A. Travers of Trenton, have since given a $10,000 financial assistance. Mr. Drysdale also remarked that the Kiwanis club gave $300 to the Belleville General Hospital Building Fund last year.

Following the address the club president held a re-dedication service in which each Kiwanian pledged himself anew to further the aims of Kiwanis.

Farmers' Union Local 181 Holds Interesting Meet

MARLBURY—The regular monthly meeting of Local 181, Farmers' Union, was called by the recently-elected president, Mr. Harold Murphy. The minutes were read by Charles Bruman, the secretary, and adopted.

During the business period, a resolution was passed to support and assist of three Mr. Joseph H. Macdonald, president of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and Harold Murphy.

The chairman called on Mr. H. Macdonald, president of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and Mr. H. Macdonald, president of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and Mr. H. Macdonald, president of the Ontario Farmers' Union.

Mr. Robson opened his address by relating his farming life until a few years ago. He made mention of the fact that this is the "farmers' union" and the majority of farmers are working for the same equipment companies. Mr. Robson stated that 25 per cent of the farmers in Ontario are capable of selling their own produce.

Speaking of the different commodity groups, he said some of them are seen to the working advantage of the Ontario farmers. The necessary legislation for commodity groups is still hanging fire in the province court.

Mr. Robson stressed the need of a strong county organization to meet the farmers' problems and said that the members should support their organization, not just for the sake of the year, but continue to do so, even though it seemed the organization had not accomplished much in a year. He said, "It takes time to overcome a problem and make certain of the right solution. Serious mistakes are costly and this has been proven in the case of the Ontario Farmers' Union."

In conclusion, Mr. Robson stated that farmers in this county need to be united in a commodity group as a partial solution to the present economic agricultural situation.

Mr. Harold Murphy was again called on to introduce the evening speaker, Mr. John Hutchinson, district director of Grey County, Ontario. Mr. Hutchinson, who opened his address by outlining the present group of local in Ontario, and the working that has been going on so far this winter.

MEETING OF FARMERS' UNION

He stressed the need of the Farmers' Union and the necessity of support for the provincial leaders who are executing a capable and thorough attitude to further the aims and principles of the Ontario Farmers' Union.

Mr. Hutchinson gave a wonderful account of the recent convention held in Guelph, and mentioned the various resolutions passed at the convention concerning the amalgamation of the Farmers' Union, and the Federation of Agriculture, and the need to be on a dispassionate membership basis.

He stated the need of the Farmers' Union presenting before the governing bodies, whether be municipal or federal, and to all other groups who are connected with the agriculture pattern.

During speech, he mentioned the recent brief that was presented to the Ontario cabinet, and the wonderful reception the union received.

PARTY PRICES

In the discussion period the attendance came up with some good questions, directed at the speakers. Mr. Hutchinson was asked to explain what "party price" meant and how it might be achieved. He said, "That we receive a price, on our products, equal to those we have to buy."

Mr. Robson was asked if there are any other rights for the farmer from the education tax bureau, and he stated the provision is looking for some relief by the Ontario Government having been known of its surplus to aid education.

The national hospitalization scheme and quite a number of other topics came up for discussion. One of the members requested Mr. Robson to have a free subscription to the Provincial Herald sent to each of the ten local in the county and he willingly granted this request.

Mr. Jack Farrell moved a vote of thanks to the speakers. The ladies served refreshments.

Tom Lamb of The Pas Commercial Empire Builder

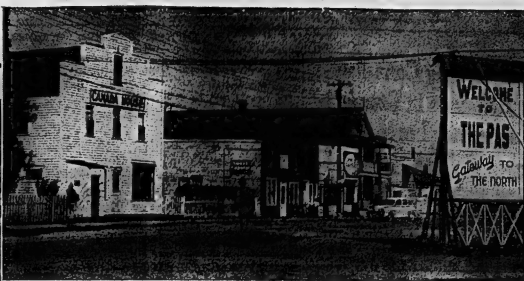

Tom Lamb of The Pas, Manitoba has created an empire with his amazing energy, enthusiasm and ingenuity. He has crowded a dozen careers into his 58 years, and developed much of Canada's north country.

From freighting river and air cargo to constructing houses and dairies or bulldozing a road out of the wilderness is all part of the day's work to Lamb whose six sons help him in his various projects.

Hiring his first plane in the early thirties to fly frozen fish to the railway, Lamb now owns a fleet of 9 aircraft which he uses well known to every prospector and trapper in Manitoba and the District of Keewatin.

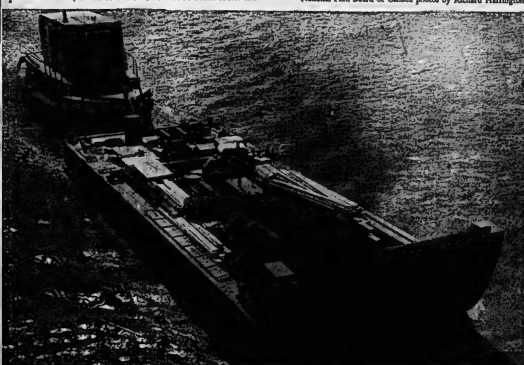

Tom pioneered muskrat rehabilitation on an island leased from the Manitoba Government and his methods were so successful that they were adopted by the Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Federal Governments.

Tom Lamb's father began the family pioneering tradition when he started a trading post at Moose Lake in 1900 which Tom still runs. The growth of his other enterprises however, made it difficult to direct them from the port and Tom moved his headquarters to The Pas, a thriving town 50 miles to the east that expects to grow with the mining boom in northern Manitoba.

National Film Board of Canada photos by Richard Hartigan

The Lambs also carry freight and passengers by barge and cruiser between The Pas and Moose Lake. Part of this cargo is for the trading post and the rest is destined for Tom's latest project, his cattle ranch. Despite low land and herds of muskrats, the herd has done so well that his pioneer farming has stirred up official interest in Manitoba's millions of acres of muskrat marsh as potential meadowland.

Massive Dose Of Drugs Bound To Kill Patient

EASTBOURNE, England (Reuters)—A medical specialist said today it is inconceivable an elderly woman patient of Dr. John Boddy Adams could have survived the massive dose of drugs he is said to have given her in the last five days of her life.

Dr. Michael Ashby added "I do not consider any doctor practicing clinical medicine could have been in any doubt as to what the administration would mean" to Mrs. Edith Merrell, 84-year-old widow of a food importer.

The 84-year-old Adams is charged specifically with murder. Mrs. Merrell died in 1950. The Crown at its preliminary hearing also has accused him of the narcotics poisoning deaths last year of wealthy Alfred Hilditt, 71, and his 30-year-old wife, Gertrude. The five judges, three men and two women, will decide whether to commit Adams to trial in a higher court.

Throughout the hearing, now in its eighth day, Adams' bland, impassive bearing has never altered. After his next most of the time writing copious notes as witness after witness has been called to give evidence.

Adams started his testimony Tuesday, said then the drug doctor, "would be bound" to kill.

"Any doctor must have known," he added.

Absby, a neurologist to six London medical professors, said he believes Adams prescribed the fatal Merrell in the 18 months before her death.

He said he could think of no legitimate reason why either of these drugs, "and especially combinations of the two—should have been administered over so long a period."

A local "Yard scientific expert, Michael Moss, also told the court Tuesday that Mrs. Hilditt had lost part of the drug barbitone in her body when she died.

He said this was "in excess of the minimum recommended fatal dose."

RUSSIA, CHINA SIGN MIDDLE EAST DOCTRINE

Premier of the People's Republic of China Zhou Enlai, left, and Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, right, are shown in the Kremlin, Moscow, as they signed a declaration designed to offset the Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East. They offered what they called "necessary support" to Middle East nations.

Foreign ministers of the six countries will meet in Brussels Saturday to discuss a common treaty. It is expected to be signed late this month.

Adams' testimony started the broader free-trade zone proposal would also bring in Britain. It would provide free trade within the zone but allow the member countries to have their own trade policies toward other parts of the world. Britain has asked the six countries to write their treaty loosely enough to permit her to negotiate with the common market through such a zone.

In time, sponsors hope, a common market will be built up to take in all 17 countries of the Organisation for European Economic Co-operation—some 200,000,000 customers. This would be a big step toward the dream of a united states of Europe.

Ship Owners Against Tolls On Seaway

SEIGNIOIR CLUB, Que., (CP) The Dominion Marine Association, representing owners of Canadian ships on the Great Lakes, will ask that no tolls be imposed on the St. Lawrence seaway when it is completed.

The Quebec is contained in the report of President John N. Paterson, to be presented this morning. Mr. Paterson says the Lake Carriers Association, representing owners of American ships on the Great Lakes, approve the demand.

Tolls have been levied in the past and "such instances have been found unprofitable and have been abolished," Mr. Paterson said. "The coming year may be one of the most important in the history of the seaway and the question of tolls is one of the matters that perhaps stand out above all others."

The seaway, is the association's view, is a public utility. "Whether tolls are imposed or not, the cost of the seaway will eventually be borne by the public. If tolls are imposed, a large share of the cost would be borne by certain groups and areas. Without tolls, the cost would be absorbed by the nation whole."

The report also appealed to the Canadian and American governments to delay ships as little as possible during construction of the seaway.

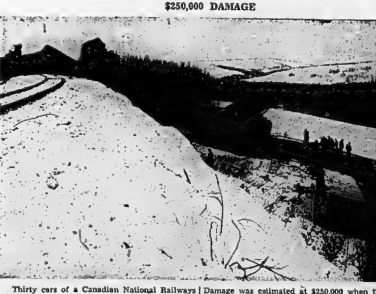

They also appealed to the U.S. Army soon will have in operation a Nike guided missile capable of knocking down the hostile plane 50 miles off the coast of the United States.

The Nike Ajax, a 25-mile-range missile which has been supplied to anti-aircraft batteries guarding vital U.S. cities, is being replaced by the bigger, more lethal Nike Hercules. With approximately twice the range.

Described as able to destroy any of today's electronic or supersonic planes, Hercules is controlled by an improved electronic brain.

Although both Ajax and Hercules are extremely accurate, a direct hit is not necessary to destroy a plane.

Two-Year-Old Loses Life In Burning Home

FEMROCK (CP)—Two-year-old Brian Turcotte died Tuesday when his farm home about 25 miles west of here burned to the ground.

Police said the boy was alone with three-year-old sister Pauline and his 13-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Marie Turcotte, when the fire broke out in the dwelling on the Wylie Road.

A farm employee, Gerald Leight, was outside cutting wood. His parents had gone to Deep River, a few miles away, to pick up their five other children.

Leight rushed the grandmother and the girl outside but was unable to save the boy.

The Quebec beaver, now extinction in the 1920's, today numbers close to 180,000 throughout the province's furthest as a result of conservation efforts. A conservation policy started 30 years ago has raised the province's beaver fur industry to an annual value of $2-

Quebec Beaver Owes Life to Conservationist

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec beaver owes his life to the conservationist. In 1906, the beaver industry had been almost wiped out, and trappers, rationed and counted until today he numbers close to 180,000 throughout the province's furthest.

Government experts estimate that within five years the beaver population will again have doubled and that a Quebec should be harvesting about 60,000 pelts annually. In 1932 a total of 25,000 pelts was taken.

BEAVER TRADE INCREASE
The conservation policy has put the beaver fur industry, A. D. Ashton, chairman of the Quebec division of the Canadian Fur Trade Association, said, has increased from a $2,000,000 trade in 1926 to an increase of $200,000 since 1932. Trade in pelts in 1934 was estimated at $700,000 by Mr. Ashton.

Quebec ranked fourth among beaver producing provinces in 1933 and supplied one-tenth of Canada's 250,000 pelts—a 30 per cent increase over 1931.

In another sphere, the beaver's renewed hold on life has meant more and better times for 2,000 Cree and Montagnais Indians trappers. More starvation in 1937 as beaver meat formed the bulk of their diet—the average Cree in 1937 made $1,500 to $1,600 annually from his pelts.

"He is able to have a feast, a canoe, a house, a cow, a horse, and get married," says Armand Tremblay, provincial director of fur services.

FACTORS CAMPAIGN
Conservation began 30 years ago, when Hudson's Bay Company factor James Watt became concerned over the plight of the beaver trapped in the James Bay area. He bought a beaver house from a trapper for the price the pelts would have earned over the next five years. Gradually other houses were acquired the same way and Hudson's Bay Preserve, stretching 5,200 square miles and bordering the St. Lawrence, became the province's first beaver preserve.

Today there are 12 preserves covering about 30,000 square miles of forest land. Mitikowaning camp of Rupert House, was required in 1934 and is the largest—52,000 square miles—so far. Within two years, says Mr. Tremblay, the provincial fur department expects to complete stocking of a vast reserve along the shores of the Saguenay river. This will bring nearly 500,000 square miles of land under control.

Government places fur beaver from plentifully stocked lakes to barren areas and drop vitamin compounds into the water to improve the food supply, and therefore the quality of the pelts.

AIRPLANE DELIVERY
Each month during the trapping season planes from the fur department travel north to pick up the pelts designated points. Pelts are sent direct to the auction sales in Montreal. This assures the trapper top price for his catch by eliminating the middleman.

"The policy cuts down on the profit in the beaver trade," noted a fur official. "But nearly everyone approves, because it's the only way to assure the future of the industry."

Most difficult part of all conservation efforts, Mr. Tremblay says, has been persuading the Indian trapper not to take more than one or two beaver from each "house" of five to seven animals. "It's taken five years to switch an area once the beaver are scarce," he says. "If more than the quota is trapped, the animals will begin to breed again."

However he believes the trapper will begin to realize this. Fur service operates with little on-the-spot supervision, and fur traders are obligated to send any pelts they receive direct to the provincial fur department at Quebec, for transport to auction.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DOED
By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

It was a familiar, typical slugging, Kingston-Bellefleur battle, but paraded with somewhat windy and windy incidents. The Mass finally emerged with the 3-2 victory. It was a very close game, but the Mass had the lead when the game was over. It might have developed into something different, as it was, they would and the win. The Mass also had the lead when the game was over. The place margin over the Pembroke Lumber Kings in two points, Kingston trail the Bellefleur.

The Mass men may be fighting in that first period but they were a solid team in the Kingston defense. It was so for George Bessie Brooks, that young gentleman might as well have headed up his nose for all the Mass could do to get the puck past him. That was one sensation in putting it safely. They tried at first from all angles and an outcome could not have been a better job.

The Mass stated to win from protest Referee Del McArthur's raising of the Hildebrand's penalty to a major after a Kingston player had thrown a stick following a charge by the Bellefleur wing. We asked McArthur about it in the officials' dressing room between periods and he stated that any player who drew blood on an opponent automatically draws a major regardless of what the infraction was.

There were some loose bench work on the part of the CKLGA. Twice in a little over ten minutes the club were penalized for benching too many men on the ice. And twice the Bessie was the "Joe." And the first one took them a pool for they were already a man short when Bucky crowded the bench.

It looks like it's over for the Red. The Whitey Penner yesterday signed John Henderson and the Mass is now in a position to win the title against the Mass in Whitey. Wonder what happened DeWitt?

COULD BE CLOSE:

With the Eastern Ontario Senior "A" now far played up, something there in the next three or four days. The fourth and fifth positions, the Bellefleur third position, and the Mass, but it is for granted that the Mass will win. The Mass, but it is for granted that the Mass will win. The Mass, but it is for granted that the Mass will win.

Pembroke, so reports from the northern town reveal, are looking for player strength as the back stretch looms closer. It is said that Jacques Laframboise, who was a member of the Mass, will be in the OHA to again wait a Pembroke uniform. Coach Ken Campbell will wait Frank Selts, general manager of the Mass, to see if he can get a player. The Mass will also add in from Frank Carrigan, manager of the Montreal Royals with the same purpose in mind. The Mass will also add in from Frank Carrigan, manager of the Montreal Royals with the same purpose in mind.

Michael J. Kadden, of Kingston, out of here, nervously, admits at long last the truth of the above. "It's a fact that the Mass has been the best hockey team in the Kingston and Bellefleur have traveled for years under the Mass, but it is a fact that the Mass has been the best hockey team in the Kingston and Bellefleur have traveled for years under the Mass."

Says Miller: "In the memory of the dead inhabitant it is recalled that any other team representing the Mass River metropolis ever in the past. The Mass River metropolis ever in the past. The Mass River metropolis ever in the past. The Mass River metropolis ever in the past."

"Told us, Miller, 'told us, told us. In we Bellefleur have been taking defeat and victories in stride and while there has been some slight sliding over Bessie's mastery over the current edition of Kingston's senior hockey, the mass of the Mass are not at all about to be shaken. The Mass are not at all about to be shaken. The Mass are not at all about to be shaken."

Short-Skirted Formality

By ALICE ALDEN

Despite all the fuss about the five-inch evening dress, the short-skirted variety is still doing nicely, especially in the new resort collections. Cell Chaperon, a firm hand with any type of dress, is responsible for this. It is a sparkling short formal in pink organdy. The skirt and bodice glist with glass delicately embroidered flower sprays. There are four tiny straps at each shoulder.

Albert Seniors Defeat Picton; Juniors Lose

The Albert College senior cagers defeated Picton Edward C. I. of Picton 16-53 in a tilt which provided very little drama as to the final outcome. The local 17-color squad pumped in 21 points before Picton broke into the scoring column, and led 29 to 5 at the half.

"Jack" Tauger with his highly polished ball handling and accurate shooting from the court opened the game in the Picton man to make defense to lead the A. C. Quinted to a close-in assault on the "golden bucket".

At the start of the second half Picton introduced a zone defense which rendered impervious the visiting cagers to regain some valuable ground in the scoring department when Crawford and Hawker began to hit.

In the end of the third quarter the A. C. defence rallied around the half-staying antics of Campbell, MacKenzie and Bishop and broke out in a rash of points on a fast break with Bishop providing the scoring punch.

These two teams meet in a return game Feb. 13th in Picton and for those concerned should provide some questioning as to the outcome on the larger floor space of the new Prince Edward C. I.

Albert College: MacKenzie 4; Holland, Campbell 4; Bishop 2; Poulter; Harris 2; Cunningham 2; Tauger 11 — 25.

Prinos Edwards — Hawker 4; Crawford 12; Bishop 4; Groulx 1; Greenwood; Heaton; Poulter; Croft; Kishinether; Poir, Buddard 2; Riches 3 — 25. JUNIORS BEATEN

In the junior curtain-raiser, Albert's squad lost a close one to the visitors by a 39 to 46 score.

Don MacKenzie started Albert off on the right foot with three quick baskets. In the second half he replied, however, Jim Hughes got unbalanced and on some nice pass plays with Art Morgan tied up the score and then targeted shots to give the visitors a 19 to 19 lead at the half-way mark.

Starting off the second half the Picton boys looked for a while as if they were tiring for a re-advance victory as Hughes, Morgan and Storms combined to put their team in the lead by 12 points. Albert called time out, and settled themselves down. Bishop and Bob Franklin, along with Bruce McCallie, made 11 points before Picton got a basket, and then Steve Sato pointed a foul shot. To leave the margin at one point. On a basket by Crawford, Albert enjoyed a short game but, when Dougman for the visitors sank Albert's hopes in the last three minutes with three quick baskets.

The game finished with both teams going all out, and shooting baskets for basket as Picton won 53 to 46.

Picton: Wilson, Alberton; Reddick 2; Storms 5; Hawker; Hurlin; Morgan 10; Hughes 22; Lightball; Dugman 4.

Albert: Franklin 12; West; MacKenzie 5; Hawkins; Dwyer 14; Morgan 2; Sato 1; McCallie 4; Robinson; Anderson 44.

Lambert Juniors Whip Picton Club In Exhibition

Outscoring the opposition in every period, Belleville Lambert Juniors whipped a Picton club 10-3 last night in an exhibition tilt played at the village.

Lamberts led 4-1 at the end of the first and 9-2 at the second intermission. Picton cut the lead to 4-3 early in the third but in succession to wrap up the defeat.

Gerrit St. Louis was the top point man for the winners. Bill Foster paced the goal-scoring and the team as a whole came up with a well deserved victory, nine of the boys earning points.

St. Louis fired two goals and assisted on three more for five points. Bill Foster had the three-goal hat trick and one assist while Al Wright and Leo St. Denis each scored once and assisted on three.

Gary Rowbottom also tallied two goals and helped on another three points with Jeff Giff and setting up three goals. Chuck Rowbottom had the 46th goal with defencemen Art Cullen and Garrison each earning a brace of assists.

Louie Claxton, a member of the Belleville team playing for his hometown Picton crew, was in on all Picton's scoring plays. He tallied twice and helped on the other while Johnson had a goal and an assist.

Ten minor penalties were assigned in all with Belleville drawing eight and Picton two.

The Lamberts made their final scheduled start in the Eastern Ontario OHA Junior "B" loop here on Tuesday night when they meet the first place Queen's University club of Kingston.

Minor Hockey

The regular midweek schedule wound up at Memorial Arena last night as Team Five missed an opportunity for a perfect record when Team Two tied the leaders by a 2-2 score. Team One defeated Team Three by a 4-2 score while Team Six downed Team Four 6-1.

The final standings show Team Five with 15 points in ten games alone in first place. Team Two follows with 13, Team Four with 12, Team One with 5, Team Three with 3 and Team Six in the cellar with 2.

Canadians climbed into first place in the squirt division race by blanking Barons 5-0, while Rangers and Maple Leafs tied 1-1. The Red Wings defeated the Black Hawks 1-0 while the Bruins downed the Browns 3-1.

A tight race has developed for the top spots here with four weeks remaining in the regular schedule. Canadians have 13 points, Rangers 13, Bruins 13 and Red Wings 12.

Team Five had won nine consecutive games until Fisher and Hull fired goals for Team Two's tie last night. Hull also assisted on Fisher's marker.

Wade and John Brennan tallied for the leaders with Boulter and MacDonald assisting.

Doug Morgan paced the Team Six attack, firing three goals while Sheridan potted a pair. Woods also scored with Langens getting an assist.

Ivo Sent netted the Team Four goal with defencemen assisting.

Kellar and Boulter each scored twice for Team One while Kelly earned three helpers. Mervin had a goal and assist, Rutherford a goal and Kelly assisted on assists.

Guire and Hunter each scored in his tenth game. Billy McGeorge and Smith for Team Three, Moore and Lattimer also scored with Trudeau earning a lone helper.

Red Wing 1-0 victory came on a goal by Carl Cannon, keeping them within reach of first place.

Canadians passed the Rangers for first with single goals coming from Ben Hurst, Brian Smith and S. White.

In the Ranger-Leaf deadlock, Myles Breuch fired the Rangers' only goal while Gerry Stewart scored for the Leafs.

Bruins with their scoring as they defeated the Browns 3-1. Ronnie Cullen, Harold Babcock and Barry Butler each scored once with Ron Post getting the Bruins' goal.

'I Am Not a Bad Man' Says Hannà Stomping Away on Ship Only Crime

VANCOUVER (CP) — Christian Hannà, who has visited four continents in his pillar-post search for a home, says he comes to B.C. with only one black mark on his record.

"I am not a bad man. I have not done anything bad with police except to show away."

"I know that it is a crime but it is the only crime I have done," he said in an interview here Wednesday.

Hannà, 22, a short, dark-eyed man, was granted nine days of freedom on a hearing of the B.C. Supreme Court Wednesday. He was remanded in the custody of his lawyers to Feb. 1 when the court will rule whether he may remain in Canada.

Although aware that his stay may come to an abrupt end, he has made plans for domestic life in Canada.

"I would first go to school and then get a little job. I need to read and write."

"If I can go to school half the year and work too. I bet I learn it good pretty soon."

"Maybe someday when I am settled here I will write a book about my experiences. It will be a big book but I don't want to think about those experiences right now."

Most of the experienced Hannà wants to forget began 13 months ago when he stole aboard the Norwegian freighter Gudvold, at Beirut, Lebanon. No nation would let him leave the ship.

The freighter docked in Vancouver last month, a newspaper took up Hannà's cause and aroused sympathy for him with a story of his 13 months of virtual imprisonment.

He was released from the ship by a writ of habeas corpus and the immigration department was summoned to show to the Supreme Court that he was legally held against the ship.

The immigration department has its case, since a deportation order and sent Hannà back to the ship.

Hannà's lawyers, T. C. Marshall, J. T. Taylor and Donald S. White, next attacked the legality of the order.

Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan agreed that the order, as worded, could not be carried out on Tuesday landed a second writ authorizing Hannà's release from the freighter.

Hannà's lawyers will build their case on two applications. One application attacks the manner in which an immigration board dismissed Hannà's appeal against a deportation order. The other alleges that Hannà was ordered deported to a ship or sea instead of a country.

ISRAEL TRIES POLICEMEN FOR MURDERING ARABS

In a Tel Aviv courtroom, eleven Israeli border policemen face the charge of premeditated murder against them for the military court officers in the background. Last Dec. 15, Israeli Premier David Ben Gurion revealed that the police had shot and killed 41 Israeli Arabs in Kfar Kasim, near the Jordanian frontier. The president told the parliament that the villagers were shot down as they returned from work, unaware that a military curfew had been imposed in the border area. He said compensation was paid to the victims' families and promised the policemen responsible would be held for trial. —Central Press Canadian.

Britain's Answer To Elvis Presley Starts Cafe Run

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's answer to Elvis Presley—30-year-old Tommy Steele—settled down today to a two-week run in London's Cafe de Paris, whose bill-board more frequently boasts such names as Marlene Dietrich, Noel Coward and Liberace.

"It's quite a departure for us," a cafe spokesman said, "but we have to move with the times. To the cry of 'Glee, everybody rock,' Steele takes his guitar and gives his audience a random of the 'Rock 'n' roll' songs that have been a household name in Britain inside of six months. Now earning a reported £20,000 a year, including £500 a week from the Cafe de Paris, Steele gave up a £74-a-week job as a ship's steward last September after watching Elvis Presley on TV in New York.

Steele learned to sing and play the guitar when he was fifteen and should ship some years ago and was paralyzed temporarily from the waist down. Steele still lives with his mother and father in London's east end, the port district. His father is a bookmaker—his mother works part time as a charwoman. They live in a home without plumbing and must use the public toilet in the neighborhood.

Defends Self Against Attempt To Murder

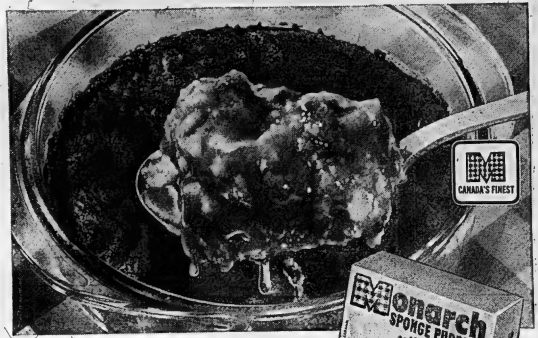

TORONTO (CP) — Raymond Hagerity, 27, of Toronto and Windsor, successfully defended himself against a charge of attempted murder and Tuesday won his own acquittal. He still faces charges of robbery and breaking and entering.

An Assize Court jury deliberated three hours before acquitting Hagerity of shooting 20-year-old George Mason twice last May 13. Mason testified Hagerity was one of three masked men who ambushed him, his mother, his wife and baby as they returned to their dacha home after visit during a struggle but managed to hold on to one of the three. Hagerity pleaded not guilty when his trial opened Monday and returned all offers of legal aid. He concentrated on cross-examination of crown witnesses. During cross-examination, Mason admitted his home had been the scene of dice games and that there had once been an argument over crooked dice.

CNE Boy Slaying Confession Said To Be Untrue

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star, in a copyright story this week, says that on the basis of "startling new information," it had learned that a 14-year-old boy convicted of murdering a 15-year-old girl, was innocent.

Wayne Malietta, 7, in Toronto last September may be declared innocent and freed.

The boy, from Seelye's Bay near Eglinton, was found murdered to death in the Canadian National Exhibition grounds. The story continues: "The Malietta murder case has been re-opened and a full-scale new investigation is being made by Toronto police. Although the convicted boy, a juvenile, confessed to the slaying, there are strong doubts as to his confession was true."

Even before police received new information suggesting his innocence, his counsel, Patrick Hertz, had obtained leave to appeal the conviction, although the time limit for lodging an appeal had lapsed."

LONDON (Reuters) — Prince Charles and Princess Anne have been given inoculations of a British vaccine against polio. It was learned Tuesday night.

Duty to Oppose Unjust Labor Union Demands

HAMILTON (CP) — N. R. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, says the CPRA feels it has a public duty to oppose unjust labor union demands.

Mr. Crump Tuesday night outlined his company's stand in a dispute over the proposed elimination of firemen on yard and freight diesel which caused the recent strike at St. Catharines.

"When technical advances eliminate useful work, both employees and management must face the change," he said.

He said the railway's first whatever decision on the firemen is handled down to the firemen's committee which will study the dispute. The union has not promised to accept his report as binding.

'Sick and Tired' Listening to Senate Criticism

OTTAWA (CP).—Senator W. Robert Davies said Wednesday he is "sick and tired" of listening to criticism of Canada's Senate.

The president of the Kingston Whig-Standard said in the Senate three speech debates that some people think it is "a joke" to sit in the Upper Chamber.

"Many of them do not know anything about the Senate," the Liberal senator said.

He asked: "How many members of the (Parliamentary) Press Gallery ever come to the Senate Press Gallery to hear what is going on and tell the people about it?"

"They just read Harbord and Canadian Press dispatches and decide on what we are doing on that basis,"

Senator E. W. D. Parry (Liberal) asked: "Is it not the newspaper press who are to blame?"

ICE FISHING

HOUSE

But, back to equipment. Better than an axe for the fisherman best on a day of hole chipping, and that's the real secret of successful ice fishing—a light long-handled chisel called a spud. Blacksmiths in the Lonsdale country have a large turnover in spuds. The first dozen times or so it is a beginner chisel a hole with a spud, the stroke that breaks the last layer of ice also sends the spud plunging through to the bottom.

Once you've got a hole close to the hole of some glowering expert who is catching fish, actual fishing can begin although that's usually the least of your troubles, the handling, a small (No. 2 or 3) hook and maybe the tip of a discarded fork will do for the fish. But may be minor, rods worms or grubs. A line-bait and the signal device called a float is used by fishermen who have lined fish for having their hands frostbitten. Extra gloves are in order, too, because if you catch a fish you'll either have to get your fish without it, or else carry it home that way.

Another word on clothing. It is to "wear sound clothes." For the benefit of those who live in money clothes and otherwise are sheltered, there is a very much thing as enough robes when fish fishing. There are many more notices—reminents may be too strong a word—for the homeless addict. These include portable shelters, tents, heating devices capable of warming up to the point where they melt a hole for the warm water to fall through, down-sloping equipment and other helpful items, most of which are desired in direct ratio to the length of the fishing trip.

But the taking is something like the taste for goat milk. Try it before you buy a goat.

NORTHERN ROUTE
Traffic on the Alaskan Highway has increased 500 per cent in the past eight years.

Mr. Rowe, member for Dufferin-Simcoe, said he never has been more "ashamed" of Canada's position within the Commonwealth than during the last six months.

SAYS IDEA OVERTAKEN
Mr. Martin said he would have thought the time was long past when it would be possible to seek to divide public opinion in this country on the question of allegiance to the Commonwealth.

Mr. Rowe said government leaders have said in the past that there is nothing left of her bones with the Montserrat except a few shreds which, you hardly see trembling across the scene. "More than that, he has weakened."

Mr. Rowe said the Commonwealth has been the most successful experiment in human history. The world has ever known. "Yet Mr. Pearson opposed Britain for going into Syria and now are in Syria. The U.S. when the government of that country said Congress: 'Now that we have got Britain kicked out, can we go on?'"

Mr. Martin, who suggested Mr. Rowe was not serious in his speech, said the Opposition member surely did not believe any political party did not feel the Commonwealth was an instrument for good in this world and must be preserved.

Referring to the UN, he said that "with all its faults and with all the frustrations that have attended its operation in 15 years, it represents for all of us in the long term the best hope for mankind."

Federal Provincial Hospital Scheme Nearly Operational

Agreement With Ontario May Soon Be Announced

SERIOUS BARRIERS TO ACCEPTING ISRAEL'S TERMS

Hammarskjold Reports To General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (CP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said today serious legal barriers stand in the way of accepting Israel's terms for putting a proposed special report to the Security Council's general assembly.

The secretary-general's view on the Security Council's general assembly, announced that Israel "only considers" with that body's demands for complete withdrawal of its forces from Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area, and the Golan Heights, and will remain neutral on the issue of the Golan Heights.

Hammarskjold expressed the view that the UN Emergency Force would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces.

Hammarskjold said Israel had proposed for the establishment of the United Nations Truce Supervision Commission (UNTSO) to be carried out only with the consent of Egypt. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces.

The secretary-general also said that any violation of UN administrative responsibilities in the Gaza area, beyond its responsibilities for the Gaza Strip, would be considered a "breach" of the armistice agreement. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces. He said that the UN would be able to move into these areas, if Israel withdrew its forces.

On the Sharm el Sheikh area, he said UN forces could be sent in to replace the Israeli troops, but they could not be used to "propose any special position," but only in support of mutual restraint on the controversial problem of shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

OTTAWA (CP)—A federal-provincial hospital insurance scheme is now in the final stages of being approved. But it and when it is approved, it will not cover all Canadians at the federal government originally envisaged.

Premier Frost, said in Toronto Thursday that legislation implementing a proposed hospital insurance agreement with the federal government will be presented to the Ontario legislature soon after it meets Monday. It may be introduced Tuesday.

The federal offer, made last spring, to share half the cost of an insurance scheme for hospital care and diagnostic services stipulates that at least six provinces must agree to the scheme.

Since Quebec and Ontario could not agree to the scheme, the plan is a big push toward fulfillment. The federal offer, made last spring, to share half the cost of an insurance scheme for hospital care and diagnostic services stipulates that at least six provinces must agree to the scheme.

There is no doubt that the attitude of the government of Ontario would have a considerable influence on the entrance of the other governments. A reliable informant said, meanwhile, that the Ontario premier has proposed the federal offer would involve less than universal coverage. THE REAL PROBLEM OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Mr. A. V. Crate, director of trade and industry for the Province of Ontario, told a general meeting of the Ontario Development Association at Peterborough on Wednesday that the annual addition of 50,000 to the working force presents a challenge to the province's industrial development.

In recent years he had been told again and again, by government spokesmen and by industrialists, that Canada's great need is for additional manpower to develop the natural resources of the province. Crate, however, took a different view of the surface, apparent contradiction. Our leaders cannot have it both ways. A growing labor force must be held in check, and not for Canada's benefit.

Perhaps, though, Mr. Crate, if questioned on this point, would reconcile the apparently irreconcilable. In much the same nonchalant manner that a National Hockey League player meets the challenge to maintain his equilibrium when shot with two sticks in the chest, Crate has a real plan for a solution, not for a N.E.L. player. Similarly an expanding labor force would be a real problem for the province, not for Canada.

Crate said that the challenge to the province is to take the most good to the province as a whole and to the nation. Members of regional associations, though, are likely to prefer their first loyalty to their own districts. In this respect, the Ontario provincial and national interests. Fortunately, though, in the case of the Lake Huron regional district, the interests of the province and the nation are identical. The province's interest is to develop the resources of the lake to the best advantage. The nation's interest is to have the province develop the resources of the lake to the best advantage.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DON'T DESPAIR; YOU MAY BE ABOUT TO WIN OUT

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

Recently I learned from a third party that my husband was taking another woman out to dinner. When I asked him about this, he said he was the one who had the affair. He said he was in a firm did business with, that he had to go to every night. He said that it was easier to do by taking her to dinner than to try to make a date with her. He had explained this to me, I was actually in a state of mind that when he had to take her to dinner, even though it didn't, of course, answer my real question at all, I persisted to accept it in the hope that the whole thing would blow over.

Finally, though, when he began "well later" two or three times a week, I found out who the woman was and called her up. She told me she was in love with my husband and that he was in love with her, but that he had said he could give her a divorce because we have four children.

I had called the woman and told her what I said, and he told me that he was making it all up. He said that if I was going to be so stupid, I should be so stupid. He said that he was not going to come home. So now, when I don't come home, he says, "well, he tells me that he goes home with the boys from the school. I don't believe for a minute. What do you think I should do about this?"

Dear Mrs. W.B.: Since you obviously are going to get nowhere discussing this matter with your husband, you had better make up your mind, hard or soft, to do as you please. It will be, to say no more about it at this time, I am sure, that you do as you please. I will be, to say no more about it at this time, I am sure, that you do as you please.

Well, that's understandable. Nobody's a woman's morale more than knowing she looks her best. It is in the mirror-glassed with the reflection that smiles out at her. Well, that's understandable. Nobody's a woman's morale more than knowing she looks her best. It is in the mirror-glassed with the reflection that smiles out at her.

Two of our young married friends have solved the problem in a highly satisfactory way. They take their children to the movies or to a restaurant or to a shopping trip. Dear Beauty:

Getting "the works" at a beauty parlor one day a week keeps the busy housewife attractive, boosts her morale.

Every hard working mother needs something to give her a change of pace from affliction chores and child rearing or about the house.

Well, that's understandable. Nobody's a woman's morale more than knowing she looks her best. It is in the mirror-glassed with the reflection that smiles out at her. Well, that's understandable. Nobody's a woman's morale more than knowing she looks her best.

Two of our young married friends have solved the problem in a highly satisfactory way. They take their children to the movies or to a restaurant or to a shopping trip. They take their children to the movies or to a restaurant or to a shopping trip.

Post Game Donnybrook Features Cornwall's 4-2 Defeat of McFarlands

Spectators, Players Mingle In Ice Fracas After Game; Chevies Score 3 in 52 Seconds

(By Special Correspondent)

CORNWALL.—The Cornwall Chevies increased their second place position in the Eastern Ontario "Senior A" division to five points here Sunday afternoon, after a 4-2 victory over the McFarlands in a fast, hard-checking game highlighted by a near riot.

At the end of the third period, players from both teams left the benches and spilled out on the ice to get into a mild donnybrook. "Cornwall's Doc Batten and Minnie Menard were the main actors in the fracas, which was getting into a wild and woolly donnybrook. Several spectators were thrown into the air by the force of the blows. About 100 fans flocked on the ice to witness the event and some of them tangled with the McFarlands of Belleville, but arena guards and Cornwall police soon restored order.

"Chevies set up what is believed to be a league record for time when they threw three points past Gordie Bell in the Belleville nets in 52 seconds at the end of the first period.

The McFarlands scored the only goal in the second period when Referee Percy Batten handed out seven penalties, five to Belleville and two to Cornwall. Batten then threw the game under control. Thirteen penalties were assessed during the second period. The Chevies drew five. Each team scored during this third period.

Paul St. Jean punted the Chevies' attack with a pair of goals. Belleville's first goal was scored by a shot from Batten getting the Chevies. The Hill-derrand and Willie Menard scored the Chevies' second and third goals.

Both teams played a close-checking game throughout the period with neither side having many scoring opportunities. The Chevies broke loose with three quick goals to take a 3-0 lead. St. Jean, who scored the first goal, followed the first one by a shot from a scramble in front of the net. The Chevies' third goal was scored by a shot from Larry Perry and Kiloette. The Chevies' fourth goal was scored by a shot from St. Jean in a two-man break. Kiloette scored the Chevies' fifth goal in the third period. The Chevies' sixth goal was scored by a shot from St. Jean in the third period. The Chevies' seventh goal was scored by a shot from St. Jean in the third period.

NEWS WOMAN ENTERTAINED
"MADOC" - A most charming afternoon show and was presented by Miss Helen Richmond, to the ladies of the Madoc Hotel, on Wednesday afternoon, by her neighbors new and old and friends. Miss Richmond recently returned from the Madoc Hotel after a period of 90 years. During the afternoon games and contests planned by Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Morris, host all day.

MADOC W. I.
Mrs. Helen Richmond entertained the members of Madoc W. I. for the afternoon on Wednesday afternoon, with a good dinner.

On February 19 the Women's Institute will celebrate its 60th anniversary and Madoc branch plans having a special meeting and birthday tea on the 19th of February to commemorate the day.

The study of the province of Newfoundland was given by the president, Mrs. Bailey. The theme of the afternoon was "Newfoundland and Current Events." Mrs. A. Rogers was in charge of the program. After giving Current Events, Mrs. Rogers read a paper prepared by Mrs. S. Ashley on "The New Day of Hasting."

The motto was "Never Forget Your Heritage," and was given by Mrs. Rogers, who said "We must remember and protect our heritage of freedom and the privilege to speak our minds. Very often we are the best and all who helped in the enjoyable program."

DEDICATION SERVICE
On Sunday morning at St. John's Anglican Church, Madoc, the Ladies of the Madoc W. I. presented a beautiful new stained glass window, which was presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper, of Toronto, in memory of Mr. Cooper's mother, Joseph and Isabel Cooper.

During the same service, two communion cards were presented and dedicated by the Bishop of the Diocese of the Madoc. These were a gift from Mrs. Helen Mitts, a staunch member for many years.

The window was made and installed by Mr. William Bishop of Toronto, and is a picture based on Holman Hunt's "The Light of Christ." It is a night scene with Christ holding a lantern in his right hand and kneeling on the door with his right hand on the door. The window is a picture signifying that one has to have one's heart to Christ from the heart.

Meat Pies For Cozy Firey Dinners

By Mary Moore

On Friday of this week you will find in this column a recipe for a lamb or beef pie for 34 people given on request for Mrs. John R. This pie may be frozen.

I am receiving as increasing number of requests for frozen foods and also the price of commodities from meat pies is so high I feel that steps should be taken. So I am taking them and when I receive at my goal I'll give you the results. My first meat pie was made with beef, and some vegetables with a flaky crust that will not cool too much and will not lose anything by freezing. It will taste heavenly with new meat. It will taste heavenly with new meat. It will taste heavenly with new meat.

Meat pie is a warming up operation. I am giving you a chicken pie and a pork pie. There is no reason for me to think that I would not freeze successfully but I don't have not actually tried freezing and reheating them. I can't say. If one of you get around to doing that before I do, would you let me know how they turn out?

PORK PIE
One and one-half lbs. boned lean fresh pork (from the butt end of the loin is ideal), 1 medium onion, 3 or 4 celery tops, 2 sprigs parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, pastry, Cut pork into 1/2 inch pieces, and vegetables and salt and pepper to suit. Add enough cold water to almost cover, cover and simmer until tender. Cook. Usually vegetables are removed, but if they are cut small they may be left in. There should be at least 1/2 inch of stock on the meat. Line a 9-inch shallow baking dish on the sides with good quality pastry (a 2-cup-flour amount will be sufficient) turn in cooked meat and stock, cover with gashed top crust and seal. Bake at 425 for 15 minutes. This may be made up into individual pies. If to be served cold 1 teaspoon gelatin should be soaked in 2 tablespoons cold water then added to the broth before it cools.

Note: Both of these pies are ideal for automatic oven baking by absenteeism.

CHICKEN PIE
Just cover a 6-1/2, stewing chicken with cold water, add 1 tablespoon salt, 3 peppercorns, 1 bay leaf and 1 stalk celery and cook gently, covered, until tender. Let chicken stand in stock to cool. Drain off fat and save it; strain stock; strip meat from bones in big pieces. Melt 4 tablespoons chicken fat, add 1/2 cup cornmeal and 3 cups chicken stock until thick. Season with MSG, more salt and pepper if needed.

CORNMEAL PASTRY
Mix together 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/4 cup cornmeal and 1/2 cup teaspoon salt, cut in 2 1/2 cups shortening until mealy, then add about 4 tablespoons hot water until pastry holds together. Line cake pan with 2 1/2 of pastry, arrange chicken pieces over it, add 4 medium cooked potatoes, halved, corned beef and celery and cooked mince. Partially cover top with circles or leaves or strips of remaining dough. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 35 minutes or until bubbling and golden. This amount serves 6 and is an exceptionally delicious concoction.

CAKE MIXES
Shipments of prepared cake mixes from the United States flour mills were valued at $6,187,000 in 1933.

From the Prime Minister

"Canadians are justly proud of the records of their professional and amateur hockey teams in the game which we consider as our national sport. But more important for our youth, than the achievement of individual and team records is the development of the body and the character of each participant in this vigorous winter sport."

"I wish every success to the Minor Hockey Committees of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in the promotion of the first national Young Canada Hockey Week. To the thousands of young hockey players across Canada, I express the hope that they will keep on playing the game in the true spirit of sportsmanship in which we recognize many of the qualities of the good citizen."

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FARBER

IT'S TIME TO MAKE A DECISION

Dear Beatrice Farber: I've been married to my husband for 18 years. He is 40 years old and has never made me the way he should.

He has no ambition at all, and so is content to have just a little money. He is not a very good father, because he likes to look like a child. He is not a very good husband, because he likes to be around the house. He is not a very good lover, because he likes to be around the house. He is not a very good friend, because he likes to be around the house.

I've been at him constantly to try and get him to realize what I want from him. I've even threatened to take him into court because he is not supporting me properly. But nothing has any effect on him. He just keeps saying, "What can I do to help my husband?"

What can I do to help my husband? I think, I should have found out that you can't help a man who is a respectable house man being by saying, "As long as you've been married for a long time, married as your husband is now, and you've been married for many years, he was already when you became his wife, and at that age his standards of living, and his pattern of behavior, were already definitely set. Therefore, I'm afraid I can't give you the chance that any radical change in his life would be to the point where he suddenly wakes up to the fact that he is doing something about himself."

What you say about to take him into court are going to get you no more credit. In fact, you have already found out that you can't help a man who is a respectable house man being by saying, "As long as you've been married for a long time, married as your husband is now, and you've been married for many years, he was already when you became his wife, and at that age his standards of living, and his pattern of behavior, were already definitely set. Therefore, I'm afraid I can't give you the chance that any radical change in his life would be to the point where he suddenly wakes up to the fact that he is doing something about himself."

So, if you're to continue your relationship with any peace between you, you'll have to accept the fact that this man is as he is, and give up the idea of thinking you can do anything about it. If you must have more money, then you get from him, it would be far more profitable for you to get out and find it yourself than to try and force it out of him.

Most marriage people that both wife and husband must put up with certain things that are them in the respective matter. To some, the time comes when they become an unbelievably tired that they must decide whether the marriage means enough to them to put up with those things or whether it does not. That's what I would say, if this point at which you now stand, and add to make up your mind once and for all, without further delay.

BEAUTY

SPECIAL TIPS FOR HOME MANICURISTS

Many girls who are in the habit of manicuring their nails at home rather than having them done by a beauty salon, find that when they become quite adept at applying the proper technique, they find their nails seem to have a "professional" look to their appearance. They are not completely satisfied with the condition of their nails. It is frequently ragged and some even complain of soreness at the sides of the nails and in the corners. This is usually because of the instruments they use—and the way they use them.

In the interests of speed, most use heavy steel files and cuticle scissors. Now, these are all right in their place, and if used with a "gentle touch," they can be quite effective. However, if used with a "rough touch," they can be quite damaging. The non-professional, however, is often inclined to file too vigorously, digging her file deep into the sides of the nails, or to cut too deeply with the scissors. And that's where the trouble starts. Because both nails and cuticle suffer severe damage when subjected to harsh treatment with steel instruments.

Club Activities

HARMONY CLUB

MARSH HILL Harmony Club held a potluck supper on Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Farley Lindemann as host and hostess. A good attendance was present.

Four programs were handed out during the business portion. After this part of the evening was closed by the Rev. R. W. Darke, crooners was enjoyed by all.

The non-professional manicurist will achieve far better results if she will substitute an emery board and an orangewood stick for the heavy steel file and cuticle scissors. For manicure make a little longer, 1/2 inch, than the nail is the end.

The manicuring process is the same, of course, but it is less likely to be so deep in the corners. Nails remain stronger and are less liable to chipping and breaking if they are kept well in shape.

After filing, buff them down. This is usually done with a fine emery board, but it should be just as effective as filing. Removing oil or soap from the nail is important. Use the emery board and buffing to make the nails have a "professional" look to their appearance. They are not completely satisfied with the condition of their nails. It is frequently ragged and some even complain of soreness at the sides of the nails and in the corners. This is usually because of the instruments they use—and the way they use them.

Open For Dessert Suggestions

By Mary Moore

In anybody in this crowd entertaining the bridge club in the next few days or are there folks looking to whom you will be serving a tasty snack? If so, a lovely little morsel I have to suggest is just the ticket.

It is a little square that calls for packaged lemon filling, cottage cheese, and pineapple. It is surrounded with crumbs and baked and chilled. One of my Sunday School boys called it "real cool."

It is a sort of baked lemon dessert cake. To make a long story short I call it FINEAPPLE CHEESE CUPS.

One package lemon pie filling, 1/2 cup each sugar and water, 1 unbeaten egg, 1/2 cup cottage cheese, 1/2 cup drained, finely crumbled, pineapple, 1/2 cup brown sugar, and 1/2 cup water in saucepan. Add egg and mix well.

Then add cream and remaining 1/2 cup water. Cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil and is thick—about 8 minutes. Remove from heat. Cool only about 5 minutes, stir once or twice. Fill in silvered cottage cheese and pineapple with 1 tablespoon butter. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes.

Mother's Helper

When you are expecting guests before your children are asleep, best bet, the procedure you take is usually called for only one egg but one cup in two because they were cracked when she opened the green tin to put them away. The filling was so easy and rich it was a lucky break.

Four or five medium-large apples (Cleopatra use 500s) cut in eighths. Arrange them in a dish, clockwise and counter-clockwise, in a pasty-lined large pie plate until you get to the middle. Mix 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon with 1 tablespoon flour and 1 cup dark brown sugar. Sprinkle this evenly over the apples.

Beat two eggs with 1/4 pint (10 tbsp.) table cream. Pour this over, being sure to cover the sugar-free mix. Sprinkle more cinnamon over with 1 tablespoon butter. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BECKMANN

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP

Count every body way. The very pleasant for the person to whom you are courteous. And it's very pleasant for you, too. Try it, and see!

WHICH RULE OF "LADIES-FIRST" IS NOT GOOD BECAUSE?

Dear Mrs. Beckmann: Please settle our discussion. "A" says that the Ladies-First rule applies when a man and his woman have a bus. "B" says that this rule does not apply in the bus or train, but that the man should get off first to assist the woman in alighting. Who is right?

Readers: "B" is right. Rules for good manners are based on common sense. . . . and when a man and woman are getting off a bus or train the sensible thing for him to do is to get off first, so to be in position to help her alight.

ABOUT THANK-YOU NOTE TO A COMPANY FOR CALAMITY

Dear Mrs. Beckmann: If a person receives a desk calendar through the mail from an insurance Agency, is it proper to acknowledge receipt of this gift? It is of course, a form of advertising for the Agency, yet it has been sent at Christmas time as a gift. — E.

What a pleasant thought person you are . . . and I do hope you will advise the Institution you apparently have, and write a note of appreciation to the Insurance Agency. The company will, naturally, be delighted to receive your words of thanks for the calendar, your approval of their good-looking (if it is) and useful gift. As a matter of fact, it's very good indeed that thousands of busy people who make it their habit to get off first to assist the woman in alighting. Who is right? — Readers.

YELLOW CONTRAST

By GRACE THORNLEIFE

Yellow is used for striking contrast with many dark hues in the Spring lines. Colors such as navy, black or gray go with it well. Here, dark gray silk broadcloth makes the dress of an attractive ensemble with a jacket of raw silk in bright yellow. The dress is pleated from the waist down. The back-buttoned bodice has a scoop neck. The jacket is silk lined.

At dinner a pretty 'birthday cake' made by Mrs. A. Miller, was cut and "Happy Birthday" was sung.

On Monday afternoon the superintendent of Eggleston Sunday School, Mrs. Warren Harlow, teachers Mrs. Carl Bridges, Mrs. C. P. Pickett, Mrs. Maurine Clancy and Miss Joanne Rader; members of the Sunday School, Sharon Rader, Annamie Clarke, Maureen Stapley, Sheila Clarke, Lloyd Clancy, also Mrs. George Jarvis, Mrs. Charles Stapley and little Sandra Stapley and Mr. Clarence Pickett met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley. Two hymns, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "There's a Land That is Farther Than Day" were sung, with Mrs. Maurine Clancy playing the accompaniment on her guitar.

Mrs. Harlow read the 100th Psalm, after which Mrs. Bridges offered prayer.

Mrs. Pickett, on behalf of the Sunday School, presented Mr. Ashley with a lovely box of fruit and flowers, for which he expressed his thanks.

Later, a treat with a pretty birthday cake, from the Sunday School, made and decorated and adorned with candies by Mrs. Clancy, was served to Mr. Ashley and the guests.

Western Canada's oil production in 1953 averaged 33,000 barrels daily compared with 31,000 in 1952.

Delicious refreshments of a variety of homemade cookies, cheese, coffee and tea were served by Mrs. Ashley, along with the birthday cake.

Before leaving, the hymn "Life is Like a Mountain Railroad" was sung.

Mr. Ashley was the recipient of several nice and useful gifts from his relatives and friends. He also received many birthday cards and messages of congratulations, among which was a letter from Mr. Kenneth Stewart, Lethbridge, a former pastor of Eggleston Church.

St. Thomas' W.A. Elects Officers For 1937

MINTO — St. Thomas' Auxiliary W.A. held its annual meeting at the rectory, Marmora, on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the president, Mrs. Lindsay Tanner presented. The Rev. J. Fleming opened the meeting with prayers and Mrs. Tanner welcomed all guests. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Fleming for the kind invitation to meet with them in the rectory. The roll call was answered with payment of dues for the new year. A letter from the prayer partner, the Rev. W. Allen and family of Salsburgh, was read. The secretary presented her report for the year, followed by the treasurer's report, both of which were most satisfactory.

Mr. Fleming gave a short talk complimenting the W.A. on its splendid year. A vote of thanks was then extended to the president and officers of the W.A., also including the entire body which was received from neighbors throughout the year, which was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Fleming conducted the election of officers which are: president, Mrs. Lindsay Tanner; secretary, Mrs. Percy Ray; treasurer, Mrs. Edna Tanner; doorkeeper, Mrs. Edna Tanner; and Miss Edna Tanner.

Some new business was discussed and Mrs. Ray presented the bids for the new year. A short program followed with Mrs. Cullen singing "Silent Night" and appropriate readings given. Mr. Fleming closed the meeting with prayer, after which Mrs. Fleming served refreshments.

Hamilton Driver-Training School Marks New Approach To Problem of Young Drivers

HAMILTON (CP)—The Hamilton Police Department has graduated 139 19-year-olds within three months after the establishment of a training school. The school marks a new approach to the problem of young drivers.

Since it started in November, the school has graduated 139 drivers. A license has been required to graduate from the school, and a permit to drive a car, a driver's permit. Two night classes of 25 hours each, held in the same week, complete the training course.

The course is taught by Sergeant Kenneth Barrett said. "Out of 139 who have completed the course, and their average mark on the tests has been 87 per cent. Of those who failed, a good proportion had faulty glasses or faulty eyesight and were given them with an allowance to return when their trouble was corrected."

On Monday nights the teenagers and girls—were concerned on car construction and maintenance and traffic laws. A question period follows when the youngsters may put forward a wide range of queries from defective instrument dials to why police demand "better roads." A film, "The Responsibility of the Driver," takes the class on a hazardous country trip.

Wednesday night, graduation exercises were held, with a lecture on the highway traffic act and is followed by a car show.

St. Laurent, 75 Friday, Says He Is Not Yet Ready to Quit

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister's spokesman, Mr. Laurence, who estimates his age at 75, says he is not yet ready to quit when he can no longer pull his weight. But he has no doubt he has reached that point yet.

In fact, the Quebec lawyer who rose to political leadership in the autumn of his career, is planning to put up a vigorous battle in the next general election campaign.

"Whenever there is an election campaign," he said in an interview, "I shall endeavor to visit many parts of Canada as far as possible, because I think people generally like to see and hear from those in whom they are being asked to express their confidence."

The somewhat reserved master of constitutional law, son of a Quebec, Que., stockbroker, made mention of an election date which he previously listed. The polls may take place next June. It will be the third fight at the polls for the twice-victorious politician.

POLITICAL MATTER

He claimed, when he first became a cabinet minister at the age of 30, that he knew nothing of politics. Yet when the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King retired in 1948, it was the 57-year-old Louis St. Laurent that the Liberals picked for their leadership. He turned back the Progressive Conservatives decisively in the 1947 and 1953 general elections.

Now there is talk that he has thoughts of stepping out; that soon perhaps after the next election, he may call it quits. Yet he appears in good health, his blue eyes clear and his cheeks ruddy. He is the picture of self-confidence.

"I am not making any long-term plans," he told this reporter in his east block office on Parliament Hill. "I do the job from day to day and I don't know how long I will be able to continue to do so."

"I have been in office longer now than I was generally expected to be," he said. "I was elected leader in 1948. I don't think it was expected that I was to be here for a great many years, and that choice was made eight years ago."

"Just a Second"

"He says he wants one like you brought him last night—with teeth in."

Of Canadian towards me, it would probably prove me as a leader, Mr. St. Laurent has seen the future of Canada grow under his leadership.

Yet he felt there would be no major war that Canada would gain greater consciousness of her position and would increase her participation in world affairs as a matter of her own volition.

NATION'S FUTURE GROWS In his eight years as leader, Mr. St. Laurent has seen the future of Canada grow under his leadership. The building of atomic weapons and the fact in the Middle East. Yet he felt there would be no major war that Canada would gain greater consciousness of her position and would increase her participation in world affairs as a matter of her own volition.

NATIONALISM STRONG On the growth of Canadian nationalism, he said, "I am sure there are still some who feel that the growing consciousness of Canadian nationalism indicates some weakness in the basis of Confederation. But I never agreed with that view."

Though I never felt Canada was to be a melting pot, I saw the individual characteristics of the various groups which make up our population would disappear if I always felt Canada was to be the homeland of one nation that would be enriched by traditions and cultures of the various elements of the population."

"I think there is a growing realization of this feeling that various parts of the country are being united and do collaborate in a manner generally of benefit throughout the whole of the land."

London to Lakes Service Planned

At another point, he said: "I will not attempt to say when I realize I am no longer fit to do my job. I have no doubt I have reached that point yet."

He said he would be a gold-plated, coin-stamped paperweight. He closed his words with a direct from his home in the lakes of the original home of his family.

Once a visiting minister dignitary had asked the secret of his health. He said there he thought it was the peace of Canada, and praying for him. Now, Mr. St. Laurent, a great-grandfather, and he still feels that way.

"I have satisfaction in the feeling that a great many people in Canada recognize that I was doing my best, whether they agree or not with all my views. I will, I feel otherwise of the attitude."

DORRIN STATED HOME APPLETON, Ont. (CP)—When the weather hit a record 40 below zero in this Ottawa Valley village, the car-drivers reported the old saw about cold never stopping the love and hunger. But James Dowling, 17-year-old postmaster, drove to Carleton Place in his car's new car instead of using the horse he has driven for 21 years. "You could not for Old Dairy, and for me," he said.

FROUD MOMENT MONTREAL (CP)—Livingstone Merchant, U.S. ambassador to Canada, says one of the "high points" of his life was when he paused from tangerine "taste to Boy Scout and class. Visiting the Boy Scout Association headquarters here Mr. Merchant, who was 50 north today as a Boy Scout, described the scout movement as "the greatest force for future good."

Mr. Crowder said housekeeping costs for families whose loved ones were in hospital and recreation services were the areas of most need. In one case, for a family of two, housekeeping services would have cost one-third of the family income.

Marion Crowder, survey director said Wednesday, that the preliminary results of a survey show 46 cancer patients, 10 could pay part of the cost of all services and 11 could pay none at all.

Costs for New Jet Interceptor Will Be High

OTTAWA (CP)—Research and development costs for a prototype of the RCAF's new jet interceptor, the CF-100, now are estimated at $200,000. This is a first estimate and costs may be even higher.

Officials said Wednesday the cost for the first, single CF-100 will be at least double DeSoto's production. Minister Howe's original estimate of $100,000 was for the first of the two.

They said the airframe of the jet, which is in the final stages of design, and its armament control system are all extremely complex. The jet is being designed to intercept aircraft of the enemy and that research and development costs for such items have been rising steadily in recent years.

The United States, Britain and West Germany are all reported to be interested in the CF-100, which has a design speed of Mach 2.5, or twice the speed of sound. The speed of sound is about 100 miles an hour at sea level.

Allright industry officials said the cost for the first flight of the CF-100 is mid-summer of 1938.

Interim Wheat Payment Will Be $37,300,000

OTTAWA (CP)—A long-awaited 10-cent-a-bushel interim wheat payment, made possible in part by a federal subsidy, is to be distributed in mid-February. Prairie farmers who participated in the 1935-36 pool. The 1935-36 pool's crop year ended last July 31. The $37,300,000 distribution of "unseasoned" payment until the pool's closed-out was announced by Trade Minister Howe in the Commons Wednesday. He said the pool closed-out likely would take place next May, as the 1936-37 pool did a year ago.

The new was welcomed in the West by farm officials. Wheat pool hands said the announcement was satisfactory.

At Niagara, Mass. James Peterson, president of the Manitoba Farmers' Union and chairman of the International Farm Union Council, said the payment "will be certainly be appreciated by farmers, but it is a delay, however expected."

Mr. Howe announced that the payments will be 10 cents a bushel on all grades of wheat except milling durum which will be 25 cents.

"We expected a minimum of 12 cents in view of the movement," Mr. Peterson said. "We have been waiting for the announcement. It should have been made by the year-end."

OTTAWA (CP)—The post of federal transport controller, vacated last year by Roy W. Miller in the wake of a railway controversy, may be left unfilled.

Trade Minister Howe gave a strong indication of that in the Commons Wednesday when he said the position has become "completely untenable."

Federal law provides for a controller, ministerial with sweeping powers, direct movement of bulk shipments in Canada. Last year Mr. Miller came under criticism in the Commons agriculture committee for the way in which Prairie grain movements had been handled.

Mr. Howe, asked to recommend immediate appointment of a new controller, replied: "My recommendation may make to my colleagues, I cannot mention the name of any man who would accept that position and go before the committee again."

SENATE COMMITTEE
In the Senate, a 36-man committee was set up to carry out a broad study of methods to improve use of farmland, increase productivity and raise farm income.

Solicitor-General Macdonald, government leader in the Upper House, described it as one of the most important investigations ever made by the Senate.

He said the committee will look into ways of rehabilitating farmland, but he said he had no use in suggesting the displacement farmers now making a decent living.

Senator Thomas Crerar (Liberal) committee member, said lack of conservation should rank high on the agenda.

Senator Arthur B. (Liberal) said use of land in the cities as well as the country should be studied. The committee also will look into the use of land to prevent large areas being sold to speculators and held unproductive for years at a time.

Senator Macdonald told Senator W. Rupert Dwyer (Ontario) that the committee itself would decide whether work would be done in Ontario or travel across the country.

Mr. Howe announced that the payments will be 10 cents a bushel on all grades of wheat except milling durum which will be 25 cents.

Finigan No Help to Tigers Says Mr. Harris

DORCHESTER (AP)—Rocky Harris, Boston manager the last two seasons, picked the Tigers as the best team this year but he says Finigan will help.

Harris doesn't think the acquisition of Boston Red Sox general manager Joe Cronin.

Finigan, obtained with veteran first baseman Eddie Robinson in a trade with Kansas City, is expected to take over at third base if Ray Boone can make the shift to first.

Harris Wednesday questioned Finigan's ability to help the Tigers and said he doesn't know how well Boone can play first.

"I don't think Finigan will hit more than 10 home runs," said Torgerson. "Rocky said I 'and Tony can do more things, and more damage than Finigan."

Montreal Kid Tops Toronto Hockey Whiz

MONTREAL (CP)—There's a rich hockey crop coming up in the parks and playground leagues around Montreal and the white hot of the budding stars is 12-year-old Tommy Angie.

Angie has scored 31 goals in nine games, a goal better over the same stretch than an Ontario boy who is reported to have "hit the way out of the league."

Tommy, son of George and Mary Angie, is said to be about 12 years old and his and his parents' names won't be in his play against older and bigger boys.

Angie, or vice versa, he has scored 31 of his team's 32 goals. He recently began in 12 in a single game.

Quebec League

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP)—Defenceman Ted Hodgson scored eight 1:15 of overtime Wednesday night to give Shawinigan Falls Cataracts a 6-5 victory over the slumping Chicoutimi Saguenais in a Quebec Hockey League game.

Saguenais had come from behind with three goals in the final period to tie the game at 5-5.

The victory pulled Shawinigan Falls to the point of the league place Trixie-River, Chicoutimi is second, and points behind Quebec.

Senior A Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Windsor Bulldogs are clinging desperately to first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A Western Division and their chances of staying there rest largely on goalie Don Head.

Head has been the best in the league most of the season, but all his previous efforts paled beside the display he put on Wednesday night when he kicked out an unbelievable 30 shots to give Bulldogs a 3-1 tie with Kitchener Waterloo Ditchmen.

The one point for the tie for the Bulldogs a share of first place with the Kitchener Waterloo Ditchmen, who beat Chatham Maroons 6-4 in Chatham.

In the only other senior game Tumbler Bay over the Port Huron Blues League scored a 5-4 overtime win over the Kitchener Waterloo Ditchmen.

In Kitchener only the Ditchmen had much play around the nets.

The Ditchmen's Don Seiler was called on for only 29 saves, but Head stopped 18 in the first period, 12 in the second, 11 in the third and 14 in 10 minutes of overtimes.

Tiger Cats Sign Former Eskimo

HAMILTON (CP)—Jake Gaudaur, president of Hamilton Tigers, said Wednesday his club has signed import quarterback Bernie Faloney for the 1957 Big Four football season.

Gaudaur refused to divulge Faloney's salary, but said the former Edmonton Eskimo star will be able to join the club after his release from the United States Air Force.

Faloney suffered a leg injury during the 1954 season with Edmonton Eskimos. Gaudaur said, "We checked thoroughly against the injury and found that Bernie is sound in every respect."

Hamilton has other quarterbacks lined up, including Jerry Man Dougal of the University of California. Tony Curtin, who finished the season at quarter with the Cats last year, is also an experienced fullback.

LEAFY MAIL CONTRACTS

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, International Baseball League season-winners last year, dispatched contracts to 28 players Wednesday and said they expect trouble with signings for 1957.

General Manager Bud Schaffert admitted some of the contracts he called for were "too high."

Two of these went to pitchers Tony Jacobs and Ken Johnson, who had disappointing seasons last year, but second baseman Mike Goltz received a raise.

Veteran outfielder Sam Jurbeck and pitcher Johnny Schmitz, a 36-year-old veteran of the big leagues, have returned signed contracts.

'Bold Ruler' Joins Top Pals

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bold Ruler, a promising colt whose future now looked in 1957 Wednesday to be back among the top three-year-olds in the United States.

He kicked out his last big old zip when he handily covered seven furlongs in 1:10 Wednesday to win the $25,000 Bahamas Stakes.

He equaled the race record and eclipsed the Bahamas record of 1:12 3/4 which had been set by 1954 winner Dan Patch.

Given an easy ride by Toronto-born Ted Atkinson, Bold Ruler left such flaming and Kentucky prospects as Gallant Fox, King Ahran and Federal Hill far behind.

The performance earned Whetzel Babbs 118,000 and rewarded 85 backers with 89.75.

The Scots finished ahead 3-0 on the day's play but total score for their Canadian tour was: Canada 1,840, Scotland 94.

The visitors today began to turn trip home by flying to Montreal.

The Scotsmen won three of the five games played Wednesday.
